Waiting For A Bus—Then Pow!

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman, quietly standing in a bus stop shelter on Highway 101 at 4:45 p.m. yesterday, suddenly found himself lying in a pile of smashed lumber as a Greyhound bus plowed through the wall.

A/2c Theodis Walker, 18, a member of the 574rd Air Force Band, was reported in good condition today at the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital with bruises on his lower left leg. Arman C. Andreasen, 59, of Santa Rosa, driver of the bus, was treated at Novato General Hospital for a cut nose, ear and hand.

"I was standing in the bus shack," Walker told California Highway Patrol officers. "All I saw was a bumper coming into the shack and then I was picking myself up in the splinters."

The big bus demolished the small structure near the southbound freeway lanes at the Bolling Drive off-ramp, near St. Vincent's Hill.

Two passengers on the bus were slightly injured but not hospitalized. Eugene C. Dorrough III, 19, and his wife, Elizabeth, 18, of Petaluma, were riding in the front seat on the right side of the bus.

Mrs. Dorrough complained of pains to her side and hip. She was examined at Novato General Hospital. Dorrough said his teeth hurt but was not examined.

Andreasen said that as he pulled the San Francisco-to-Santa Rosa bus off the freeway onto the loading zone, the bus started to slide to the left. Fearing it would go over a slight embankment, he pulled hard to the right. The bus went too far to the right and hit the shack.

The Dorroughs, however, told officers that the bus hit a curb on the left side of the off-ramp and the steering wheel spun out of the driver's grasp.

THIS WAS A BUS SHELTER—California Highway Patrol Officers Ted E. McGuire (in bus) and Robert W. Ericson and Lt. William H. Porter examine what was left of Bolling Drive bus shelter near Hamilton Air Force Base after Greyhound bus ran over it last night. A/2c Theodis Walker of Hamilton, waiting in the shelter, suffered leg injuries. He wasn't a pedestrian, but the sign Ericson holds might have been a warning to him anyhow. Gale Winds Lash Marin; No End To Storm Seen

Trees Blow Over, Cellars Flood, Tides Close Road

Gale winds lashed squalls of rain as streams were choked with muddy floodwaters today in Marin.

The Weather Bureau could sight no end in the cycle of drenching storms. Small craft warnings remained out, with occasional rain and winds up to 40 miles an hour forecast for tomorrow.

More flooded cellars, slides and power failures were reported today, but most damage was from high winds.

Two large eucalyptus trees were blown down on the James Healy home at 839 Marin Drive in Tamalpais Woods at 11:15 a.m. Mrs. Healy and her two children were inside the home but were not injured.

Another big tree fell atop two parked cars in the City of San Rafael's free parking lot on Fifth Avenue near E Street, where the new city hall is to be built, shortly after noon.

As the tide came in, San Pedro Road was closed at Glenwood and Peacock Gap in San Rafael by water blown in waves from the bay across the road.

Howling winds early today snapped a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. power pole near the Coast Guard's Point Reyes lighthouse, knocking out power to the light and to three ranches. The light went on auxiliary power.

GUSTY WINDS

Winds gusted at 87 miles an hour atop Mount Tamalpais this morning. The California Highway Patrol reported traffic moving slowly on county highways because of sudden cross-winds.

A pine branch fell across telephone leads to three homes on Novato Boulevard in Novato at 10:45 a.m. The limb fell in front of Dr. George E. McDaniel's home at 1819 Novato Boulevard.

Rising water in Corte Madera Creek began to undermine the two-car garage at H. L. Erwin's home at 238 Saunders Avenue, San Anselmo. Mrs. Erwin found a corner of the garage hanging over the muddy water and a portion of her back yard gone when she went to get her car this morning.

FIRE STRIKES

Flood and fire struck the Joseph Higgenbottom home at 1408 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, at 12:28 p.m. yesterday. San Rafael firemen reported the basement flooded and natural gas from the heating unit, spreading on top of the water, ignited. Firemen said the blaze caused no damage.

A bay tree fell across a 12,000-volt PG&E line on Sylvestris Drive across from Lagunitas School at 1:45 p.m. yesterday. Power was off from 100 customers in the Cascade area of Fairfax until 2:07 p.m., off for 75 customers in San Geronimo until 2:30 p.m., and off for 150 customers in Forest Knolls and Lagunitas until 3:10 p.m.

Peak rainfall was reported at Lagunitas and Phoenix lakes were 1.6 inches was recorded in

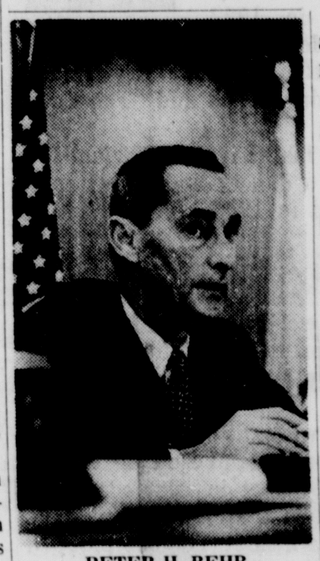
Board Demands Commissioners All Quit Posts



PETER H. BEHR
Takes over gavel

Marin County supervisors voted 4-to-1 today to ask members of all county commissions to submit their resignations "as a formality."

Dissenting to the new policy was newly elected Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen of the Second District.

The four-member majority instructed County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to draw up a resolution asking for the resignations, to be formally adopted within two weeks.

Three supervisors made it plain they plan to use the new procedure to replace members of the planning commission.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker moved for the request after the board heard a letter from Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, chairman of the Marin council for civic affairs, urging a change on one seat of the county redevelopment agency.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr quickly diverted the discussion to what he termed "the broader subject opened by it," namely reports that the "new broom" policy was being considered informally.

Behr later said he felt the planning commission "ought to have some new members."

Similar hints that they would accept some of the planning commissioners' resignations came from Leydecker and the other new supervisor, Thomas T. Storer, who seconded the motion.

Board action came a few hours after a legal opinion from county counsel Douglas J. Maloney that the board has the right to ask commissioners to resign.

Maloney's opinion was in a letter to Supervisor Kettenhofen, who questioned the legality of the procedure.

"The board has the right to request the resignation of any individual serving the county in any capacity," Maloney said. Whether the person requested to resign accedes to the board's request, however, depends upon the authority under which he was appointed to office, the county counsel held.

Maloney listed the agencies where the board appoints and the "limitations of tenure" as follows:

Supervisors Pick Behr As Chairman

Supervisor Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley was elected chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors for 1965.

Outgoing Chairman William A. Gnoss noted that naming Behr followed a practice of annual rotation of the chairmanship on the basis of seniority, which started last year.

Upon taking the post, Behr complimented Gnoss for an outstanding job and his "equitable temperament and common sense."

The election came as the board reorganized with newly elected Supervisors Thomas T. Storer and Ernest N. Kettenhofen taking their seats for the first time.

Gnoss thanked fellow supervisors for their support and said it was an honor to serve as chairman.

Later in the meeting Behr commented that each supervisor will have to regard himself as representing all of Marin, "not the city because we live in the city nor the rural area because we live there, but both rural and city."

Supervisors also started the day with a new salary, $9,600 a year, a $3,600 raise from last year's salary. This was voted by the state legislature last year effective Jan. 1.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker was elected vice chairman. He voted for himself, saying, "I vote yes because it's not quality or competence, simply seniority."

As chairman of the board, Behr also became chairman of the Marin County Transit District. Gnoss was elected vice chairman of the district.

Storer was appointed to three posts, director of the North Coast Counties Supervisors Assn., supervisors' representative on the San Rafael Sanitary District board (replacing Leydecker) and member of the board's executive salary committee.

Kettenhofen and Behr, who was re-elected without opposition, were sworn into office by County Clerk George H. Gnoss just before the session started at 9 a.m.

RE-MAP, TAXES TOP PROBLEMS

Governor Says Senate Reapportionment, Revenue Biggest Legislative Issues

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown told the legislature today that state Senate reapportionment is a necessity, tax increases inevitable and careful spending a must during this 1965 session.

Revenue and reapportionment, he said, are two issues that "stand above the rest in difficulty and urgency."

Brown, in his annual state-of-the-state message, said the U.S. Supreme Court had laid down a rigid rule for reapportionment and "our Senate has wisely chosen to prepare for compliance."

Additional taxes, he said, will be needed to meet programs already approved by earlier legislatures — mainly the increase in state school aid — and to help the "overburdened" property owner.

Brown recommended some old, some new programs, such as a traffic safety project that included seat belts as mandatory equipment in all school buses; permission for the California Highway Patrol to use radar speed controls; and mandatory chemical tests for intoxication to everyone arrested for suspected drunken driving.

The governor urged some changes in governmental agencies, chiefly the creation of a single Department of Revenue to handle all state collection activities; establishment of a Business and Commerce Agency; combination of the recreation and park commissions into a single body; and formation of a Department of Housing and Community Development.

Brown said he would suggest new tax programs when he submits his "bare-bones" budget in February.

These tax hikes, Brown declared, would be only enough to meet the present commitments to education, resource development, care of the mentally ill, custody of the criminal offender, and other state services.

Only one new program will be

W. C. CORNWELL
Moves up to city clerk

Cornwell Is Named City Clerk

W. C. Cornwell last night became San Rafael city clerk, succeeding his former boss, W. L. Morgan.

Cornwell, who had been acting clerk since Morgan's resignation became effective Dec. 15, was appointed by unanimous vote of the city council, on motion of Councilman Fred E. Jensen. He was immediately given the oath of office by Mayor John McInnis.

The new clerk is no stranger to the job, having been deputy city clerk since 1953. Before that, he had worked since 1924 as a surveyor for various engineering firms in Marin County. He was born in Illinois.

He resides at 614 Belle Avenue.

At Cornwell's request, the council appointed two deputy clerks: Orrin Wending, city finance officer who was hired to take over that part of the duties formerly performed by Morgan as combination clerk-finance officers, and Mrs. Rene Burdisso, an employe in the clerk's office. Cornwell asked that two deputies be named so there would always be one present at the city hall.

Cornwell's appointment is for the remainder of Morgan's term, which expires in April, 1967.

Rivers Inch Higher—No Danger Now

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Storm-weary residents of the Far West watched warily today as streams fed by continuing rain and snow inched higher.

Officials said there was no immediate danger of renewed flooding, but continued rain at high altitudes in the mountains could melt snow to drain into streams still swollen from the devastating Christmas floods.

The latest storm was being steered into Oregon and California by a high altitude jet stream, the Weather Bureau reported.

Forecaster Ray Crooks warned there might be minor flooding along the Russian River in Sonoma County.

He added that temperatures were cold enough in northern mountains to keep the snow pack from melting at a dangerous rate.

At Eureka, the rain grounded Army helicopter and propeller-driven transport relief flights.

"We got the stuff loaded and can fly anytime, if they'll just give us a break in the weather," Lt. Col. Loehr Rigby said.

A dozen civilian helicopter pilots at Yreka in Siskiyou County were also grounded by rain and heavy snow above 4,000 feet.

William Miller, California chief of flood control operations, said the outlook for renewed flooding was "not critical."

"The present rain is not the warm, tropical type, nor is it coming down in the quantities that would melt the present snow pack fast," he said.

"The snow up there is going to absorb large amounts of warm rain, like a sponge."

In Northern California, many helicopters completed flights to stockpile supplies in flood-smashed areas and returned to their home bases.

City Hall Bids May Be Called Soon

The San Rafael City Council hopes to call bids Feb. 15 for construction of a new city hall.

Carl F. Gromme, spokesman for San Rafael Architects Associated, told the council last night that final drawings should be ready by Feb. 1. However, he revised this to Feb. 8 after Councilman Louis H. Baar insisted he wanted a week to study preliminary drawings which Gromme presented last night.

Moving to clear the way for the project, the council called for bids to be opened Jan. 18 on demolition of the last four buildings on the block bounded by Fifth and Mission avenues and

Services Planned For Poet Eliot

LONDON (AP)—Private funeral services are planned for T. S. Eliot, one of the 20th Century's greatest poets.

Eliot, 76, a native of the United States and a British subject since 1927, died at his home in London last night. The cause of death was not announced.

Eliot

A voice of the "Lost Generation" between the world wars, Eliot revolutionized poetry and also was a noted critic and successful playwright. He won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1948.

Eliot's best-known poem was "The Waste Land," published in 1922. Other major poems included "The Lost Song of J. Albert Prufrock" 1917, "The Hollow Men" 1925, "Ask Wednesday" 1930 and "The Cocktail Party," in 1950.

Five Die As Crane Falls

ALAMEDA (AP)—Five workmen were killed yesterday when a crane broke loose and fell from the top of a 70-foot pier tower into an arm of the San Francisco Bay.

Police said the men were dismantling the old 100-foot crane that sat atop a gantry on an unused dock at the end of Grand Street in Alameda.

Two of the men were in the cab of the crane, and the others were working near it. The cab plunged from the tower, punched through the pier's planks and submerged.

Killed were Arthur J. Cook Jr., Stanley Sites, William Carroll, James H. Morgan, and Matthew A. Kole.

A witness, Harry Fisher of Alameda, said, "God, it was awful . . . I'm still shaking."

STATE OF THE UNION MESSAGE

LBJ Bids Red Leaders To Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson turned his attention today to the preparation of special messages to Congress asking for a big new education program, a substantial cut in excise taxes, expanded efforts to fight poverty and disease and new civil rights legislation.

All these items — plus a surprise bid for an American visit by the new leaders of the Soviet Union — were dealt with in broad terms last night in Johnson's State of the Union message to Congress and the nation.

Now comes work on detailed follow-up messages, the first of which, this Thursday, will spell out Johnson's call for "a massive attack on crippling and killing diseases."

Normally, presidents wait until after Inauguration Day to start dispatching special messages. White House associates said Johnson wants the legislators to get an early start on his many-sided programs.

The State of the Union message urged this as the time to give increased attention to problems at home. But it dealt, too, with a suggestion that leaders of the Soviet Union visit the United States. And Johnson slipped in announcements that he wants to travel to Europe and Latin America this year.

Johnson's 4,000 - word message, read personally at an unusual evening session of Congress, was broadcast by radio and television networks.

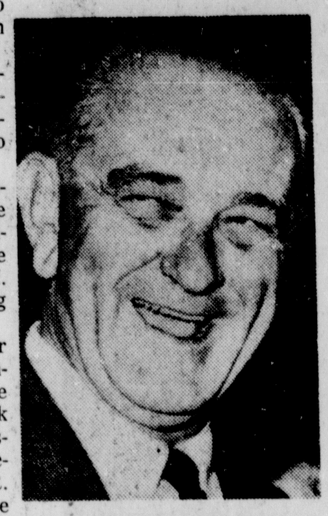
Few problems, foreign or domestic, were omitted from the chief executive's 47-minute address, which prompted Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen to call it "a glowing blueprint for paradise."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield termed Johnson's goals attainable. House Speaker John W. McCormack labeled it "truly a great message" and the new House Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford, said there could be little argument over the goals — just over how to achieve them.

On the home front, Johnson mixed new proposals with retreads. For example, he wants:

—$1.5 billion this year for a new aid-to-education program that would help low - income school districts, provide books for students at both public and parochial schools, and extend scholarships and guaranteed loans to needy college students.

—A substantial excise-tax cut which House officials said could approach $2 billion.



PRESIDENT JOHNSON
After last night's message

—Either a new law or a constitutional amendment, a point yet to be decided, to "eliminate every remaining obstacle to the right and opportunity to vote." Johnson said the aim here would be to help Negro Americans.

—Medical insurance for the aged under Social Security and higher Social Security benefits.

—Changes in the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act, which aides said would include a proposal to repeal the controversial section 14-B that authorizes states to enact laws barring compulsory unionism, so-called right to work laws.

—A change in congressional rules to permit speedy enactment of a temporary income tax cut to help fight any recession that might develop. But Johnson said he confidently predicted continued prosperity.

—Federal power to combat air and water pollution, new moves to beautify the countryside and the cities, expanded conservation measures, new moves to fight crime and foster culture.

—A study of ways to cut the cost of farm aid programs and to "direct more of our effort to the small farmer who needs help most."

—An immigration law "based on the work a man can do and not where he was born or how he spells his name."

—A doubling this year of the $784-million fund to finance anti-poverty programs and the start of "a massive attack on crippling and killing diseases."

Johnson even made what White House officials acknowledged was an indirect reference to birth control, saying he would "seek new ways to use our knowledge to help deal with the explosion in world population and the growing scarcity in world resources."

But the biggest surprise doubtless was his suggestion that members of the new Soviet hierarchy visit the United States.

Declaring that Americans and Russians must "come to know each other better" if they are to live in peace, Johnson said:

"I hope the new Soviet leaders can visit America so they can learn about this country at first hand."

Saigon Troops Attempting To Start Counteroffensive

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese government deployed more soldiers around Binh Gia today, and a counteroffensive against the Viet Cong appeared to be under way.

Sporadic sniper fire was reported during the night and a road convoy was hit with small-arms fire, but casualties were light. The area 40 miles east of Saigon was quiet today.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, was expected to direct the U.S. side of the developing effort to counter the Viet Cong offensive at Binh Gia.

U.S. reconnaissance bombers crossed the battle areas repeatedly yesterday taking aerial photographs, possibly in preparation for a drive against Communist forces around the embattled Roman Catholic refugee village.

Viet Cong units made new attacks Sunday night and Monday shattering a three-day lull in fighting around Binh Gia. Six Americans have been killed in the fighting around Binh Gia and two others are missing and believed captured. Government casualties are believed to be in the neighborhood of 500.

Saigon, scene of student riots and demonstrations Monday, was calm today, although the main Buddhist secondary school of 5,000 students was on strike and more trouble was expected.

There were indications that Buddhist students and other agitation groups would try to mount a coordinated campaign opposing the civilian government of Premier Tran Van Huong.

In Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, 100 students passed the first night of a 48-hour antigovernment fast, but widespread public support for the protest did not materialize.

Student leaders in Hue have promised that if the government has not granted their demands by tomorrow, they will adopt "stronger measures." The implication was that the students are planning riots.

Guide Dogs Training Site Is Approved

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday granted Guide Dogs for the Blind a permit to locate its training school, now in Los Ranchitos, in the east Novato area.

The school plans to relocate on a site along H. Lane, about 600 feet east of Bugeia Lane, planner Ned Parsons reported.

The new site is a little over 30 acres, 16.6 acres now owned by the school and about 14 acres now owned by Ethel Murphy, Parsons said.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Approved tentative map of a three-lot subdivision by Hester M. Kellanda for a three-acre site north of Montford Avenue and west of Miller Avenue, Homestead Valley.

2. Approved tentative map of Tamalpais Heights, a proposed 1.2 acre subdivision north and east of Autumn Lane in Tamalpais Woods, submitted by Harry Sutcliffe, limiting it to three lots, and denied Sutcliffe's application for a lot split in the same area by 4-2 vote. Commissioners Niels Schultz Jr. and George Scott dissented.

3. Continued until April 5 hearing on Judge David R. Baty's application for a permit to establish a cemetery on a 95-acre parcel along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Olema.

4. Granted Dick York architectural supervision for a four-unit apartment building at 270 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Junction.

5. Granted Presbytery of the Redwoods a permit for a church at Donahue Street and Drake Avenue, Marin City, subject to approval of landscaping plans.

6. Set for Feb. 15 further discussion on a proposed zoning ordinance amendment that would limit residential uses in commercial districts and prohibit them in industrial districts.

7. Set for Feb. 1 its second hearing on the proposed county master plan for recreation and parks.

8. Recommended that master plan and development plan requirements be set aside for a 2.4-acre parcel next to Terra Linda Garden apartments west of Highway 101 to allow consideration of John Carter's plans for a rest home on the parcel.

9. Granted Marin Car Wash architectural supervision of plans for a carwash at 20 Bellam Boulevard in the east San Rafael area.

10. Continued to Jan. 18 consideration of a tentative map of 2.7 acres on the south side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, 2,100 feet west of Nicasio Road, submitted by Joseph Barone.

11. Continued to an undecided date consideration of an application for architectural supervision of plans for a commercial center between Highway 101 and Tamal Vista Boulevard in Fifer Industrial Park, Corte Madera.

12. Continued to Jan. 18 hearing on a resolution of intent to amend the Marinwood Master Plan. The amendment would revise density requirements for areas now zoned residential with minimum lot size of 10,000 square feet.

13. Recommended approval of a 15-foot setback adjustment for Robert Busse for a home at 20 Wolfe Canyon Road, Kentfield, despite objections from several neighbors.

Commissioner William F. Upton was absent.

Four Named To Grand Jury

Four Marin residents were named yesterday to the 1965 Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco.

The 23-member jury includes Frank G. Wagner of 9 Lilac Avenue, Kentfield; Mrs. Lois G. Mann of 115 Oak Avenue, Kentfield; Hawley E. Rich of 57 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley, and Eugene C. Young of 824 Wilmac Avenue, Novato.

Wagner, a manufacturing engineer with Lockheed in Sunnyvale, was named deputy foreman of the jury. Stanley S. Knoblock of Lafayette will serve as foreman.

Boy, 15, Dies Of Meningitis

VENTURA (AP)—Death of a 15-year-old Ojai boy from meningitis was reported Monday by the Ventura County Health Department.

The victim, Roger Eugene Bickford Johnson, succumbed Saturday in Ventura County General Hospital.

Ventura County had seven meningitis cases last year, one of them fatal.

Nazi Intruder In House Causes Trouble For Police

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Red-faced Capitol police officials promised "improvements" today in the security system which permitted a black-costumed intruder to invade the House chamber only hours before President Johnson appeared there.

The interloper, identified as Robert Lloyd, a member of the American Nazi Party, dashed into the well of the House yesterday during the roll call vote for election of the speaker.

Clad in black from head to foot and wearing blackface minstrel makeup, he pranced and grimaced before the stunned House members, shouting, "I'se de Mississippi delegation."

Capitol policeman, caught unawares by the bizarre invasion, surged onto the floor and dragged Lloyd away. He later was charged with two counts of disorderly conduct and released after forfeiting a $20 bond.

Prisoners Help Stricken Guard

ROME, Ga. (AP) — Six Negro prisoners passed up a chance to escape, and attempted to save the life of a white guard at a public works camp when the guard suffered a heart attack on a work detail with the men.

But their efforts were in vain. The guard, Ray Shell, 61, was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital yesterday.

"Not a man gave a thought, apparently, to escaping," said Warden C. Mc. Caldwell. "They could have left Shell there alone to die and run off, but they tried to bring him back in."

Quake Aftermath

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Alaska gained hundreds of square miles of territory as a result of ground movements caused by last March's earth quake, the California Academy of Sciences reports.

Manslaughter Jury Trial Rescheduled

Jury trial for Donald B. Still, 38, originally set for today, was rescheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for March 9.

Still, of 53 Unionstone Drive, Marinwood, is charged with two counts of felony manslaughter and another of felony drunken driving in an Aug. 24 head-on collision on Redwood Highway which took two lives and injured a third person.

Woman Narcotics Ring Suspect Is Arraigned

Frances Baeza, fifth suspect in an alleged San Quentin Prison narcotics ring, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to smuggle heroin within the prison walls. Further hearing for counsel and plea was then continued by Marin Municipal Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson until 1:30 p.m. Monday.

The suspect, about 50 and of Los Angeles, told the court she expects to have a Los Angeles attorney represent her. She is free on $5,500 bail.

Further proceedings for the other suspects, Joseph Matthew Herman, 57, of Mill Valley, and prison inmates Jesus Gonzales, 36, Horace Daniel Lenington, 38, and Robert Lujan, 38, are scheduled for the following day, Tuesday.

All face the conspiracy charge and Gonzales faces an additional charge of illegal possession of heroin.

Wife Divorces Author Lederer

HONOLULU (AP)—Mrs. Ethel Lederer, wife of author William Lederer, won an uncontested divorce yesterday and was given custody of their three children.

Lederer, a retired Navy officer and author of "A Nation of Sheep" and co-author of "The Ugly American" with Eugene Burdick, did not appear in court.

Mrs. Lederer's suit charged grievous mental suffering.

the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today. Point Reyes Station recorded 1.57 inches.

Roofs blew off three homes in the 500 block of Eldridge Avenue, Novato, at 12:30 p.m. today, according to the fire department. The composition roofs were stripped from the structures. The roof on a fourth home was torn.

Firemen were helping to clean up the mess this afternoon.

San Rafael had .53 of an inch in the 24-hour period ending at noon.

The Marin Municipal Water District reported that two billion gallons of water have been stored in the last five days from run-off.

Nicasio Lake began spilling over yesterday afternoon. The 24-hour rainfall reading there was 1.2 at 8 a.m. today.

Kent and Lagunitas lakes continued to spill over, and the level in Alpine Lake was within inches of the spillway today. In Bon Tempe Lake it was about a foot from the spillway.

Mill Valley reported three mud slides today, including one that closed Marlin Avenue.

Smaller slides were at 338 Edgewood Avenue and at 114 Hazel Avenue.

In Alto, water ran into an apartment at 116 Carlotta Circle yesterday.

There were small mud and clay slides on Paradise and Strawberry drives and in Corinthian Court on the Tiburon Peninsula.

In Sausalito, mud came down a steep slope above a small sidewalk park on Bridgeway near Richardson Street.

Other rainfall readings for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today were: San Anselmo, 1.43; Kent Lake, 1.25; Woodacre, 1.18; Bon Tempe Lake, 1.10; Fairfax, 1; Ross, .9; Alpine Lake, .70; Novato, .65; Belvedere, .59; Tamalpais Valley, .42; Mill Valley, .39 and Sausalito, .32.

Inauguration Souvenir To Be LBJ Medal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A medal designed by sculptor Felix DeWeldon is the official souvenir of President Johnson's inauguration, by proclamation of Dale Miller, the inaugural chairman.

The medal bears a likeness of the President on one side. On the other, the presidential seal is superimposed on a map of the 50 states to signify a united country under the President's leadership.

The single gold medal struck from the design will go to Johnson himself. Cabinet members will receive the first 10 of 10,000 serially numbered silver medals, which will be sold to the public at $35, plus $3.50 excise tax, apiece. An unlimited number of bronze medals is being prepared for sale at $5 each.

The custom of an inaugural medal dates back to President William McKinley in 1901.

Smuggling Loses

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—The Turkish government loses more than 20 million dollars revenue each year because of smuggling, according to the Ministry of Customs and Monopolies.

Unemployed Man Booked In Burglary Investigation

Lawrence Joseph Heide, 25, San Francisco, was booked in Marin County jail last night for investigation of burglary after allegedly being found in their apartment by a returning Bel Aire couple.

Heide, unemployed, was held in lieu of $1,100 bail.

Marin County sheriff's officers said Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Miller, 34 Andrew Drive, told them they returned from vacation about 9 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Miller entered the apartment first. She said she saw a man inside, and when he attempted to walk out, she screamed.

The suspect fled. Miller and taxi driver George Adams gave chase but were eluded. Soon after, deputies found Heide in a car parked nearby.

Deputies said the intruder had placed silver nut cups and several steak knives in a pillow case, but abandoned the loot on a living room chair when surprised by Mrs. Miller.

Mill Valley Trustee Not Candidate

Edward A. Kemp, Mill Valley School District trustee since 1959, will not be a candidate for re-election to the board in the April 20 election.

Kemp told trustees at the board meeting last night he will step aside at the close of his term. Also expiring June 30 are terms of William L. Clark, chairman, and Joyce G. Gross.

The board agreed to support resolutions of the Sausalito School District trustees calling for establishment of state-financed pre-school education and continuance of compensatory education for disadvantaged children.

Trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the district office to discuss the district's educational objectives.

Trustees accepted resignations of three Old Mill School teachers, effective June 30. The teachers, all on maternity leave, are Mrs. Louis Bartolucci, Mrs. Harold Beaver and Mrs. John Hazzard Jr.

Arne R. Anderson, manager of Duffy Tile Co., and Ted M. Neighbor, an executive with Insurance Securities, Inc., will represent the public on a committee appointed by Clark to review salary standards and fringe benefits.

Kenneth Pratt was named to replace Frederic Gunsky on the community relations committee.

Erhard Is Told U.S. Stand Firm On Reunification

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's chief spokesman said today that the U.S. ambassador has given reassurances that the United States is not backing away from its policy that this divided country should be reunified.

Ambassador George C. McGhee saw Erhard for 30 minutes this morning, the day after his return from the United States. He had stayed with President Johnson at the LBJ Ranch in Texas.

Karl Gunther von Hase, Erhard's press chief, emphasized two points that he said McGhee had made: that there was no change in U.S. policy on reunification, and no lack of emphasis on the policy.

The West German Cabinet met later, and Von Hase said it was satisfied with what Erhard reported.

CITY HALL

C and E streets. These buildings, a row-house apartment structure and three old houses converted to apartments, are on the C Street end of the new city hall block, where a fire department headquarters eventually will be built.

In another move to clear the block, Mayor John F. McInnis instructed City Atty. David Menary Jr. to start condemnation proceedings to acquire a 10-foot strip along Mission Avenue still held by Louise A. Boyd, which she kept to prevent access from below to Mission Avenue while she was residing in Maple Lawn, now the San Rafael Elks Club.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said Miss Boyd's attorney had asked $10,000 for the strip.

Gromme gave a progress report on the city hall design which seemed to remove most of the council's misgivings—including the fear that the ceiling of the council chamber might be too low.

He presented a revised layout for the council chamber, with a different seating arrangement, along with other drawings selected from some 75 prepared by the architects.

The council chamber will have brick walls outside and in, he reported, and brick will be used also on exterior of both ends of the city hall, blending with the city library next door.

Other reports on equipment and materials were given by Hal Moore of Bantley Associates, mechanical engineers, and George V. Banning, another of the architects.

Councilmen asked that Banning provide costs of aluminum sash windows in comparison with the plastic-coated steel sash specified; also a comparison of cost of nylon carpeting throughout instead of rubber tile. Banning said carpeting is already planned in the council chamber, conference rooms, and some of the offices.

Youths Booked On Charges Of Contributing

Two teen-aged youths were booked into Marin County Jail early today on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a trio of Mill Valley area girls in a four-hour party in a vacated Santa Venetia house last night.

A third youth, 17, and the three girls were cited to juvenile officials for alleged violation of curfew laws. They are to appear at 9:30 a.m. next Tuesday for hearing.

Booked at the jail were David N. Smith, 18, a sailor stationed at Treasure Island, and Michael Lee Nunnally, 18, of 128 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael. Nunnally remained in jail at noon in lieu of $550 bail. Smith was turned over to military authorities at Hamilton Air Force Base. Both are scheduled for arrangement in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Deputies said the three youths told them they picked the girls up at the girls' homes and all went for an auto ride, ending at the house at 246 North San Pedro Road.

Students Get Delays For Pleas

BERKELEY (AP) — A three-week delay was ordered today in the court pleas of 768 demonstrators arrested in the Dec. 2-3 sit-in occupation of Sproul Hall on the University of Califonria's Berkeley campus.

The demonstration climaxed a bitter student protest against now modified regulations on student political action, including support of civil rights causes.

Municipal Judge Rupert Crittenden granted a defense requested postponement until Jan. 26 on entering pleas to charges of disturbing the peace, refusing to disperse, and resisting arrest.

Only one student — Winton Cooley, 18, a Stockton sophomore — showed up for the hearing at which a group of 50 had been scheduled to declare their pleas — innocent or guilty.

Malcolm Bernstein, speaking for about 80 defense attorneys, asked the delay. He said each accused demonstrator now has an attorney. But he said the attourneys must talk individually with the accused to determine the plea.

Most Marooned Residents Home

Marin residents stranded by snow which blocked mountain highways had mostly reached home today, as the State Division of Highways reported all major Sierra routes passable.

Still stranded in Fortuna, however, by washout of Highway 101 in Humbolt County, were Mrs. Mary Lowell, owner of a craft studio at 10 Locust Avenue, Mill Valley, and Alexander Williams of Mill Valley.

Mr.and Mrs. Leland J. Ahern of 615 B Street, San Rafael, who arrived home yesterday afternoon after being stranded in Truckee Sunday, reported Southern Pacific trains to Oakland yesterday where filled with Bay Area residents who left their cars in the snow country and boarded trains at Reno to get home.

Welfare Aide Arrested In Embezzlement

A 34-year-old case-worker with the Marin County Department of Public Social Services was arrested yesterday on an Oregon felony complaint alleging embezzlement of about $300 during his employment in a similar job there.

Bruce Joseph Webb of 24 Hillcrest Road, Mill Valley, was booked into Marin County jail about 5 p.m. following his arrest at the Civic Center by Sheriff's Inspectors Marco Melovich and Harold J. Sleezer. He posted $2,200 bail and was scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Betty Presley, director of the social services department, said an immediate audit of financial transactions by Webb during his employment here—since last Sept. 15—has been ordered. She emphasized there was no indication of any wrong-doing by Webb here.

Webb, divorced father of four children, had been employed eight years in Oregon. He was a case-worker for Multnomah County, working in Salem, prior to coming to work in Marin County.

The secret indictment was returned Dec. 21 by the Multnomah County Grand Jury. It alleged "embezzlement over $75." Robert Harris, chief investigator of the Public Welfare Commission at Salem, said today the amount allegedly taken was about $300.

He said Webb allegedly obtained the money by telling recipients of welfare funds they had been overpaid, and taking the funds from them after they had cashed their checks.

He said three violations occurred during last June through August. The specific date cited in the indictment was July 2.

Miss Presley said regular personnel clearance procedure was followed in hiring Webb here, and her office had no knowledge of any alleged violation. He has been employed as "intake" worker, she said, taking and processing applications for assistance and services.

Burch Won't Ask For Vote Of Confidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch held out a compromise offer today to settle the dispute over GOP leadership — but said his own position is not negotiable.

The chairman, chosen by Sen. Barry Goldwater, said he has decided not to ask the party's national committee for a vote of confidence in his leadership when it meets in Chicago Jan. 22 and 23.

Burch said he expects the forces pressing for his oust will propose a resolution of their own, probably seeking a vote of no confidence in his chairmanship.

"I think that we have a majority," Burch said in an interview. "I think that our situation has improved in the last couple of weeks." He gave no figures.

Czech Seeks Visa To U.S.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A Czechoslovak architect who came to India to study has requested a visa to enter the United States but it is not correct to say he is seeking asylum, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said today.

The Czech, identified only as "Novotny," was told his application will be sympathetically considered, the spokesman said.

The spokesman declined to specify why the architect wants to come to the United States, saying such matters are confidential.

But he pointed out that it would be possible for a Czechoslovak citizen to obtain a visa for immigration as well as a visit. Czechoslovakia's annual immigration quota is not used up, he said.

Airplane Pilot Really Conducts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An airplane pilot grew a beard while helping fly the Pittsburg Symphony Orchestra's cargo plane on a recent 11-week tour of Europe and the Middle East.

A lady walked up to him one day and asked if he was with the orchestra. He said he was.

"What instrument do you play?" she asked.

"The Constellation," he replied.

OBITUARIES

Birdsall Randolph Dies At 58

Funeral arrangements for Birdsall Rowland Randolph, former Mill Valley automotive man, were pending today at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Randolph, 58, died Sunday at Homewood, El Dorado County, where he had resided for about a year.

He was a partner for 18 years with the late Louis J. Rilla in R and R Motors at 21 Corte Madera Avenue, Mill Valley.

Randolph and Rilla had the Dodge and Plymouth agency at that location and handled automotive repairs. They started in business at a service station on Corte Madera Avenue, then built the building now occupied by Mill Valley Radiator at 39 Corte Madera Avenue. Later they built the larger structure at 21 Corte Madera Avenue and moved their business into it.

The business was dissolved about eight years ago.

Randolph was a native of New Jersey and came to California in 1926. He was a member of Mill Valley Lodge 356, Free and Accepted Masons.

Surviving him are his wife, Betty Virginia Randolph; a son, Brian Birdsal Randolph of Terra Linda; two daughters, Alexandra Livingston Trumper of Santa Venetia and Kimberley Ann Randolph of Homewood, and his mother, Mrs. Regina Yetter of Mill Valley.

JOHN HORN

Prof. John Louis Horn, founder and first chairman of the education department at Dominican College in San Rafael, died last Thursday in San Francisco. He was 85.

Horn, who joined the Dominican faculty in 1923 as a part-time instructor, became a full professor of education at the college in 1938, a position he held until 1949 when he retired. He and his late wife then moved to Palo Alto and later to San Francisco.

He was the author of several books including "The Education of Your Child," "The Education of the Exceptional Child," "The Principles of Education" and "The American School."

He leaves no immediate survivor.

PAULA LEITH

Memorial service for Mrs. Paula M. Leith, 49, of Port Sanilac, Mich., step-mother of Jerry Leith of Marinwood, will be held this week in Detroit, Mich.

She died in a local hospital Sunday after a brief illness at the age of 49.

Mrs. Leith and her husband, Dean, had arrived in Marin County Dec. 24 to visit their family.

Mrs. Leith and her husband owned an import brokerage in Detroit.

Surviving are her husband and step-son, and her mother, Mrs. Paula B. Warren, and a brother, C. Bruce Warren, both of Detroit.

Clue Is False To Lost Fliers

A false clue stirred brief hope today in the search for a plane missing since Dec. 19 with a Greenbrae couple.

A private flier late yesterday reported sighting what he thought was wreckage of the plane of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vincent Murphy among hills east of Turlock. But a Civil Air Patrol plane flew over the site this morning and found the "Wreckage" was merely panel markers for a construction job, Western Air Rescue at Hamilton Air Force Base reported.

Mr.and Mrs. Murphy, residents at 500 South Eliseo Drive, disappeared Dec. 19 shortly after leaving San Jose Airport in their light plane, en route to Las Vegas.

After All, Mustn't Disappoint Them

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An 88-year-old St. Petersburg citizen with a lively sense of humor went into a shop recently, leaving his wife sitting on one of the city's many benches that line its downtown streets.

Emerging from the store, he overheard two elderly women on a bench near his wife. They were talking about how terribly fresh men were toward lone ladies sitting on benches.

Smiling fiendishly, the man walked up to his wife in plain view of the two women. He told her what a good-looking woman she was, leaned over and kissed her.

Then he casually strolled away.

School Money Control Hinges On New Law

Marin County Board of Education will receive a budget Jan. 18 based on the assumption that the board has final say on the county schools' general fund budget.

The budget will be an "if" budget, since the county board of supervisors still has general fund control, said Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

A new state law allows the county board final say over the general fund budget if the supervisors and the education board agree to the transfer. This in effect would enable the county board to set its own tax rates, since the rate would have to match the budget needs.

Asst. Supt. Robert Stannard reviewed for the board the functions financed by the general fund. They include:

1. Administrative services by the county superintendent's office.

2. The county board itself.

3. Special education programs such as training for the deaf, mentally retarded and handicapped.

4. Operation of the child care center and the family rehabilitation center.

5. Operation of Loma Alta School at Juvenile Hall.

6. The county committee on school district organization.

7. Personnel and research services by the county board of education.

The board was cautious about assuming new fiscal powers, because the new law may require the board to pay for maintenance of its own facilities at the Civic Center.

The board will hear more on the new law at its Feb. 2 meeting from Dr. DeForest Hamilton, superintendent of schools in Sonoma County, which is one of two counties in California that have assumed the additional budget powers and responsibilities under the new law.

COUNCIL PLANS OFFICE BUILDING

Revamping Expected To Provide Adequate Space For Corte Madera Through 1980

Corte Madera's busy combination firehouse, town hall and police station will become exclusively an office building in the not-to -far distant future, the town council agreed last night.

In an hour-long discussion, councilmen reviewed alteration suggestions made by Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow Jr. and architects Eugene E. Crawford and George V .Banning. The budget contains $15,000 for the project.

The revamping, expected to provide the town with adequate offices at least through 1980, will begin after the police and fire departments move into public safety buildings on which bids are open Thursday afternoon.

Outwardly, the town hall should remain much the same, except for possible removal of some of its many windows and addition of a deck, probably from the Willow Street approach, to future quarters Corte Madera Sanitary District, said Mayor Edward W. Colthurst. Brandow had proposed putting the sanitary district offices in the basement, but councilmen demurred that their neighboring agency might not like that.

Instead, it was agreed that an employee lunchroom, restrooms and other facilities be moved to the lower floor, and the present barbecue area be retained under the proposed decking.

One large ground floor office will be provided for general city functions including treasurer, building inspector and other departments, with enclosed offices for the town manager and building inspector.

Central heating and air conditioning should be installed if not too expensive, lighting should be improved, and the council chamber furnished with dais, more comfortable seating, plenty of panels for maps and charts, provisions for projectors and public adress systems and other features, Brandow suggested.

Paul Steinmetz will be asked to provide a landscaping plan. Fifty-eight trees at the town's nursery have already been reserved for the plan.

The council hopes to call for bids on the alterations by next July.

The National Geographic Society currently is engaged in some 40 projects that are helping to push back the frontiers of earth, sea and sky.

Guard Talk On Unity, Board Told

Trustees of Tamalpais High School District, in a brief meeting last night, heard chairman J. M. Stubblebine caution board members on statements regarding unification.

Dr. Stubblebine charged that the Independent-Journal accentuates the differences among school boards in the area. He referred specifically to his comments on the two-district unification proposed by Reed School District trustees two weeks ago.

He said public statements of trustees should reflect "respect and courtesy" for other boards.

Tamalpais trustees also discussed but took no action on a review of the teaching program in light of the passage of Proposition 14 last November. Trustee John C. Siemens said those who voted for the measure were high school graduates, so, he wondered if high schools are doing their job in teaching about human relations.

The board adjourned until 8 p.m. Jan. 18. Trustees William B. Lewis was absent.

According to gastronomes, the first version of the hamburger turned up on medieval menus in Baltic states. People often ate raw beef shredded with a dull knife.

Vocational Education Study Firm Is Named For County

Marin County Board of Education last night appointed Odell MacConnell Associates to coordinate a six-month study of vocational education in Marin County at a cost of $8,600.

Asst. Supt. Stanley Friese told the board the study would cover vocation training programs and needs from the eighth grade through junior college.

The firm, headed by Dr. William R. Odell, former Stanford University professor, will coordinate the study efforts of the county schools office and the board's advisory committee on vocational education. It will also consult trade unions and the Marin County Grand Jury's committee on eductation for recommendations on the programs. The study is to be completed by June 30.

The Marin County Board Of Education Also:

1. Approved an agreement with Sausalito School District for the county to take over operation of the Sausalito Child Care Center and refurbish it at a cost of $8,000. The district is to continue to pay for utilities under $100 a month, hot meals for the youngsters, and fire insurance.

2. Approved appointment of Mrs. Patricia Hamill as director of the Child Care Center. Mrs. Hamill is now assistant director of the Luther Burbank Child Care Center in San Jose.

3. Approved renewal of 1965-66 contract with the State Department of Corrections for the academic program at San Quentin Prison, the department to pay $232,855 for the program. This is an increase of $5,005 over last year.

4. Authorized Superintendent Hollis and board president Robert G. Randolph to accept gifts on behalf of the board when acceptance does not involve a policy change.

5. Approved appointment of six consultants for a one-day teachers institute Jan. 29 on the theme of individualized instruction.

6. Appointed A'Leen Runkle, a former county planner, to assist Hollis in his study of the College of Marin program.

7. Approved purchase of $1,500 worth of films and approved a list of 18 books for purchase by the county library.

8. Heard a 45-minute report from Robert E. Morrill, executive secretary of Bay Region Instructional Television for Education, to which the county board contributed $1,238 last year. More than a quarter of Marin County students are shown KQED educational program in their classrooms.

Clock Radio Stolen

Theft of a $42.64 FM-AM clock radio from the Jack Younger Insurance Agency, 17 West End Avenue, San Rafael, was reported to police by Delie W. Waugh, an employe of the firm, yesterday. Police said the burglar smashed a window to gain entry.

Though rare in the United States, the Everglade kite, a hawk-like bird, is commonly seen in parts of Cuba, Mexico and Central and South America.

Corte Madera Seeks To Balk Commuters

Speed-minded commuters who take to Corte Madera side roads to beat slowups on Highway 101 soon will be thwarted.

The Corte Madera Town Council last night introduced an ordinance dropping the speed limit from 65 to 25 miles per hour on all of Casa Buena Drive within the town limits. Second reading and adoption is expected at the council's Jan. 18 meeting.

Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow recommended the speed limit change. He said early-morning motorists have the habit of leaving the freeway at Lucky Drive, traversing Tamal Vista and Casa Buena, to zoom back onto the freeway ahead of backed-up southbound traffic. Prima facie speed limit on Casa Buena has been 65 miles per hour, because it has no residential development, he explained.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. After extensive talk, revised the mileage rate paid city employees for use of private cars, from a flat 10 cents a mile, to 12-and-one half cents up to 450 miles a month, 10 cents above that. Acquisition of a city car for joint use of the manager, building inspector and others will be discussed at budget time, Brandow said.

2. Compromised with Thomas Zivic, 48 Stetson Avenue, on merely trimming back his cypress windbreak to improve visibility at Buida Court Intersection, and erecting a "warning, children at play" sign above the curve. Brandow had recommended topping the 12-foot hedge to perhaps three feet; Zivic originally asked for a full stop sign.

3. Approved asking the state to conduct a special census by June 1, estimated to cost $175, to increase the town's eligibility for gasoline tax funds and other subventions.

4. Postponed decision on which of two street sweeper bids to accept, pending further study by Brandow. Bids were $10,200 and $10,387.

5. Refused to act on City of Albany's request to adopt a resolution calling for legislative and disciplinary action against students disrupting education at state-supported universities and colleges. "This is kind of a strange thing to ask the town to enter into," Brandow commented.

6. Agreed that a committee of Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Councilman Charles Pendleton will arrange interviews with seven architect candidates for the job of designing Firehouse No. 2.

7. Adopted a resolution adding certain off-street drainage easements, other than flood control, to the list of areas maintained by city street crews.

8. Continued to Jan. 18 the hearing on John V. and Hannah Walsh's protest against amount of assessment for work on Upper Stetson Avenue, but approved a resolution refunding $50 to assessment district property owners who have already paid their bills. Brandow was authorized to grant deadline extensions to contractors Ghilotti Brothers Inc. of San Rafael to complete storm-delayed asphalt work.

9. Approved purchase of third police car, equipped to California Highway Patrol specifications.

10. Postponed to the Jan. 18 meeting, consideration of amendments to community antenna television franchise ordinance, decision on town maintenance of Tainter Path, Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis' quarterly report on legal expenses, and acceptance of drainage easement on the Michael Terry property on Stetson Avenue.

11. Authorized Brandow to attend Feb. 17-19 meeting in Sacramento on city managers.

12. Approved the final map of Altic Oaks subdivision, three lots.

13. Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Friday, when the council hopes to be able to award the contract for construction of the public safety building. Bids are to be opened Thursday at 3 p.m.

Laborer Jailed In Theft Case

Bob James, 45-year-old Riverside laborer, was arrested late yesterday by Marin County sheriff's officers for investigation of grand theft and burglary after allegedly living without permission in a home-made camper truck in Forest Knolls.

Inspector A. V. Menjou said the locked camper, owned by Michael L. Rea of Lagunitas and stored near the Forest Knolls Lodge, was broken into sometime between last Wednesday and yesterday.

He said James had lived there, selling small items including two gas cans and a camp stove from the camper to Forest Knolls residents.

Menjou said James also was being investigated in the theft of about $200 worth of clothing from the car of Lester Cox, parked at the Forest Knolls Lodge last Monday, and possession of two credit cards made out to Steven W. Whitney of Petaluma, a Lagunitas restaurant owner.

James was jailed in lieu of $2,200 bail.

Diplomas Revoked At Prison

Three San Quentin prison inmates received high school diplomas last June for work they had not completed, it was disclosed last night at a meeting of the Marin County Board of Education.

The diplomas were revoked by prison authorities after the fact was discovered about a month later and the three inmates were disciplined, said Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Park said authorities were unable to tell whether the diplomas were issued through a clerical error or intentionally.

The slip-up was revealed as county board members approved the December list of graduates from Bayview School, operated by the county at the prison. The list went to the board late because of extra-careful review by prison authorities.

Two Bit Advice Is Traded Back

NEW YORK (UPI)—The term "two bits" as a slang designation for the quarter can be traced back to colonial times, according to Encylopedia Americana.

A Spanish milled dollar of that period was known as the "pieces of eight." Halves and quarters of this silver coin, cut to make change, were known as "four bits" and "two bits."

Land De-Annexed

Alto Sanitary District directors last night passed a resolution de-annexing playground property at Edna Maguire School, Carl O. Heynen Jr., board secretary, reported today. The de-annexation was necessary, he said, since the property has been annexed by the City of Mill Valley.

MYSTERY SOLVED

Fairfax Couple Found Lost Dog

The mystery of who found a blind Fairfax man's deaf and blind dog was solved today.

Mrs. Charles Shearin of 10 Encinal Avenue, near Fairfax, said she and her husband saw the dog on Bolinas Road shortly after midnight Thursday as they drove to work.

The dog was in the middle of the highway, she said, and a car was parked at the roadside nearby. Thinking the car's occupants owned the dog, Mr. and Mrs. Shearin went on.

Returning home later, they discovered the dog was still there. Certain it would either be hit by a car or would perish in the rainy weather, they put it in a box in the truck they use to run the C and D Building Maintenance Co. and took it home.

Mrs. Shearin said she waited two days to see if something appeared in the news about the lost dog. Such a story did appear, in Thursday's Independent-Journal, but she failed to realize it referred to the dog she found until her father, C. L. Pedroni of nearby 26 Bosque Drive, called her.

The story identified the dog as King, owned by A. E. Reid of Fairfax. She decided to return it by placing it in the Marin County Humane Society's holding kennel in San Rafael.

Explaining that she was "in a heck of a hurry," Mrs. Shearin said she neglected to include her name in a note she left at the kennel.

Later, she was able to reach Reid by telephone, but in his excitement over finding his beloved pet, he missed her name.

E. Blithedale Avenue Parking Is Restricted

There will be no parking on East Blithdale Avenue from Dell Street to the Mill Valley city limits between 7a.m. and 7p.m., the Mill Valley City Council decided last night.

Signs are to be posted by the end of the month. The no-parking edict is effective already on the south side of the street.

Action was taken over protests of several residents of the arterial street and over opposition of City Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks. Voting "no," Sheeks said he felt the change would increase traffic speed and hazards.

The council voted 3-2, Mayor Michael Wornum and Councilman George E. Wickham dissenting, to ask property owners to construct sidewalks on East Blithdale from Elm Avenue to Camino Alto.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said 31 lots on both sides of the street need sidewalks. Approximate cost of curbs,gutters and sidewalks is $5 a foot, meaning an average cost of $200 to $275 per lot for a four-foot wide walk, he said.

Three properties have walks which do not meet the grade and these will be replaced at city expense.

Objecting to the "no parking" resolution were Mrs. Cleo Dickson, 425 East Blithdale; W. D. Griffin, 411 East Blithdale; Duane R. Weeks, 386 East Blithdale , and Mrs. John R. Barnard, 1 El Capitan Avenue.

"I'm pretty sick and tired of the harrassment on East Blithedale," said Mrs. Dickson. "Now you're going to take away the freedom of our homes . . . why don't you put a fence around us and a guard?"

The council, defeated 3-2, a motion by Councilman Wickham that the sidewalks be paid for entirely by the city

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Denied a request of Mrs. G. E. Thomas for a minor subdivision at 51 Bay View and 40 Lovell avenues.
2. Introduced an ordinance amendment defining "home occupation," which is permitted in residential districts.
3. Deadlocked 2-2, Mayor Wornum abstaining, on whether to permit a major subdivision by Manuel Gomez at Gomez Way and Homestead Boulevard, then continued matter to Jan. 18.
4. Introduced an ordinance providing for bi-weekly pay days for city employees. Pay days are now twice a month.
7. Heard an objection from Jerome C. Hauke to the proposal that a sewer use fee be paid directly by the property owner as a utility instead of out of his property tax. Hauke said this would not permit a person to deduct the charge from his income tax as now.
8. Accepted improvements on Sheridan Court and Vista Linda east of Sarah Drive.
9. Approved subdivision of three lots into two lots by Trow Cutter, 220 Del Casa Drive.
10. Acknowledged a letter from George D. Carroll, Richmond mayor, asking Mill Valley to cooperate in study of rates on Richmond-San Rafael Bridge with intent to request the state to reduce tolls, but took no action on it.

Pearson Sets Visit To D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada will visit President Johnson Jan. 15, the White House announced today.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy described it as an informal visit and discussion.

Pearson has been vacationing in Florida and will stop off on his way home, Reedy said.

Three Cities Adopt Tax On Cigarettes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three more cities have levied a municipal cigarette tax of 2 cents a pack: Pasadena, Pomona and Inglewood.

Cities which earlier followed Los Angeles' Aug. 1 adoption of the tax measure are Burbank, Glendale, Torrance, Santa Monica and Redondo Beach.

Moving Sign Must Stop In Five Years

Mill Valley's one revolving sign will stop circling in five years, the city council agreed last night.

The council voted unanimously to amend the city sign ordinance to prohibit any further revolving signs along with taped signs and signs which blink or intermittently light.

Affected is one sign owner, Mrs. Walter Brown, who operates Small World Travel Inc. at 25 East Blithedale Avenue. Under the ordinance, Mrs. Brown has five years to make the sign quit rotating.

Robert F. Warnick of 295 Corte Madera Avenue said the whirling globe is not bad but might be a precedent and "what's to prevent Luigi from coming to town with a flying Pizza or someone else with a flying hot dog?"

He handed councilman George E. Wickham a $10 bill saying that this would match money turned in by Walter Brown to be donated to the city's community and youth center.

Brown called the amendment "unjust and uncalled for" and "a restrain of trade on the part of the planning commission." His wife's poll, he said, showed four to one persons in favor of the globe.

The Browns will contribute $40 to the community center, he said.

Ross Girl Is Injured As Car Strikes Pole

Katherine DeFremery, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert deFremery of 203 Bolinas Avenue, Ross, suffered a cut lip today when her car ran headon into a light pole on Laurel Grove Avenue between Canyon Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Ross.

Ross police reported the Redwood High School student was on her way to school when the accident happened at 7:20 a.m. She was treated by a private physician.

Mrs. Ibach Chosen Hospital Board Head

Mrs. Marion C. Ibach was unanimously chosen president of the Marin Hospital District board this morning, replacing Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who resigned.

The action came at a special 7:30 a.m. organizational meeting of the board, at which two new directors, Dr. Gwendolyn M. Campion and Hadden W. Roth, were seated. Dr. Campion was then elected secretary, and Roth, vice president.

Mrs. Ibach was named to the original hospital district board in 1946 and has served steadily since, always holding the office of secretary. A Marin resident for 27 years, she has worked as a nurse and holds a credential in public health nursing from University of California.

Less than an hour before he was scheduled to be sworn in as a member of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, Kettenhofen handed his resignation to the hospital board.

A few minutes later, another board member, Paul F. Kent, said he would resign within the next few months. He said he is being transferred by his employer, Fairchild Corp., to its western division headquarters in Mountain View in March.

MARION C. IBACH
After 19 years, new title

The board called for nominees to fill the existing board vacancy and the one coming up. Mrs. Ibach said she hoped Kettenhofen's replacement could be selected at the Jan. 26 meeting.

The board also agreed to abolish the hospital operations committee after the Jan. 13 meeting, and discussed holding two regular board meetings a month instead. The board planning committee was also abolished.

At suggestion of Roth, the board also changed the time for meetings to 6 p.m. in the cafeteria at Marin General Hospital, with dinner. Formal agenda items would be taken up at 7 p.m.

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver

San Rafael police today sought the driver of a car which damaged five parked trucks in one fell swoop at 10:45 p.m. yesterday in front of San Rafael Sales, 513 Francisco Boulevard.

Police said the driver of a 1952 Plymouth may have been hurt when he sideswiped a telephone pole and crashed into one of the trucks, sending it flying into another truck and so on, in domino fashion, until all five trucks were damaged. Blood was found on the abandoned car's steering wheel.

Owner of the car was Margaret Ann Smith of 162 Belvedere Street, Apt. 7. She said a friend parked the car at 8:30 p.m. and it was apparently stolen, for the second time in two days, a short time later.

Part of the 20th Century's richest find of sunken Spanish treasure forms the exhibit "Pieces of Eight!" which opened in Explorers Hall, Washington, on Dec. 16 and will continue through Feb. 28.

Wallet Is Stolen

Nana Jill Love of 313 C Street, San Rafael, told San Rafael police yesterday that someone stole her wallet from a purse under the counter of the Toys and Hobby Shop, 210 Northgate Shopping Center, yesterday morning. She said it contained $71 and identification.

MILL VALLEY SISTER CITY IS PROPOSED

A sister city was proposed for the City of Mill Valley last night — perhaps one which can offer some coffee for the councilmen's 10 p.m. break.

Councilman Albert E. White suggested the city participate in the sister city program and he was asked by Mayor Michael Wornum to investigate.

However, said Wornum, chiding White, "If you can't manage to get coffee I don't see how you can get us a sister city." (White also introduced providing coffee for the council a month ago but as yet it has not materialized.)

"Perhaps we could have a sister city in Brazil," someone suggested.

The last time Scotland Yard moved was in 1890, when lack of space forced London's policemen to leave their original headquarters at No. 4 Whitehall Place, adjoining Scotland Yard.

Tiburon Sanitary Board Rejects Flood Proposal

Directors of the Tiburon Sanitary District last night "washed their hands" of the proposed flood control district aimed at stopping flooding of a small area of Belvedere and Tiburon.

The district "plans no more action and hopes other government entities will continue with plans for the district," reported James Murray, sanitary district board president.

The district about two years ago began plans to form a flood control district at the urging of citizens. With plans now drawn, Belvedere has objected to an outflow pipe in Belvedere Cove which might cause silting in the San Francisco Yacht Club basin.

Directors last night received a letter from Belvedere asking the cost of construction of an outflow pipe to Racoon Straits. Murray said engineers' estimates are that this would double or triple the cost of the project, which had been estimated at $135,000.

The city of Tiburon has asked that flood control district plans be held up until they can be integrated with a complete city drainage program, and has said the present proposals will not stop flooding of the Cove-Lagoon Road and Tiburon Boulevard areas.

A letter to the sanitary district from the state division of highways noted that the division is willing to contribute $7,000 toward the project, Murray said.

The Tiburon Sanitary District board also:

1. Agreed to ask some peninsula civic organization to sponsor a public meeting for discussion of annexation of Belvedere to the district.
2. Informally talked of the possibility of jointly acquiring a corporation yard with Tiburon and Belvedere.
3. Informally discussed methods of preserving the Northwestern Pacific Railroad yards in Tiburon for public use and "restoring beauty" to the yards.

Bagley Favors Change Of Leader

By WAT TAKESHITA

SACRAMENTO — The change in Assembly minority leadership in Sacramento demonstrates that moderate Republicans will have more voice within the Party as opposed to the far right, Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) predicted today.

Bagley was one of the youthful rebels among 31 Republican assemblymen who voted in Robert T. Monagan of Stockton as their floor leader yesterday.

Monagan's victory toppled minority leader Charles J. Conrad of Sherman Oaks, a legislator for 18 years and floor leader for two sessions.

The vote was 19 for Monagan and 12 for Conrad. The crew-cut Monagan, 44, is a former University of the Pacific athlete.

"Internally, the Assembly will have a more vigorous, aggressive, vital minority voice," said Bagley, "simply because Bob (Monagan) is that type of person, and the majority of his support comes from younger members."

Monagan promised a vigorous assault on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's spending program.

Referring to what the governor calls a "bare bones" budget, Monogan declared: "If they want to use the phrase 'bare bones,' we'll have to cut it to the marrow."

The 49 Democrats in the Assembly are five votes short of the two-thirds margin required to approve the spending bill.

The Republicans chose George Deukmejian of Long Beach as party whip and retained Don Milford of Oakland as caucus chairman.

Governor Says Re-Mapping, New Taxes Due This Year

included in the governor's budget message. That calls for California to provide for its 10 per cent share of President Johnson's war on poverty.

Many additional programs are desirable, Brown said, but "will require sums of money beyond an austerity budget."

He suggested the legislature provide first enough money to meet commitments already made, and then "survey the unmet needs of California and weigh them against the requirement of still larger tax increases."

Although calling for a firm hand on the state's purse strings, Brown did say he would recommend an increase in unemployment insurance maximums from $55 to about $60; extend unemployment insurance to agricultural workers; and raise benefits under workmen's compensation.

Brown said he regretted the fact that the Supreme Court "has left the people of California no voice in the apportionment formula of their Senate."

"And many of us could support a constitutional amendment which would permit Californians to choose the kind of Senate they want."

But, Brown said, he doubted if Congress would approve such an amendment and "certainly not within the time alloted by the federal courts" for reapportionment.

The California Legislature has until July 1 to realign its Senate on the basis of population rather than geography.

In the field of education, the Democratic chief executive asked the legislature to approve a project of remedial education for older youngsters and preventive education for the young "by taking advantage of federal programs already in existence."

During the speech, Brown also called for more local control of education and laws to improve current programs for the mentally retarded.

Referring often to California's growing population, Brown said certain political methods he called archaic must be eliminated.

He mentioned the two-thirds majority vote needed for passage of local school bond issues; two-thirds vote in each house of the legislature for state budget approval; and legislation to "prevent special interests from turning the initiative petition to private gain."

The governor also called for annual general legislative sessions and increased pay for lawmakers.

Brown renewed his call for an end to capital punishment in California, saying the death penalty is a "degrading act which fails to deter crime."

Other Brown recommendations:

1. Legislation to insure that each citizen be informed on the amount of interest he is paying when a purchase is made on credit.
2. Rewriting of the current liquor license laws.
3. Changes in pre-trial detention, whereby some defendants may be released on their own recognizance without the necessity of posting bail.
4. Laws to strengthen the sale and use of firearms, particularly in the area of concealable weapons.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Brown tells legislature reapportionment of the Senate is a must, new taxes inevitable and budget economy desirable. Legislature sets off on historic, issue-packed session.

New Assembly Republican leader and his band of youthful colleagues aim at aggressive action and use of their budget-blocking capability to force Democrats to deal with the minority.

THE SENATE

Re-elected Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, president pro tem. (Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael started his sixth year as minority leader.)

Bills Introduced:

Disaster — Appropriates unspecified sum from state highway fund for flood-damaged highways and bridges; SB 2, Collier, D-Yreka. Appropriates unspecified sum for flood-stricken counties and cities; SB 3, Collier. Plane In Park To Get Study

Mayor Michael Wornum of Mill Valley last night appointed City Councilman Albert E. White to investigate what other cities are doing about obsolete fighter planes put in city parks as gifts from the Air Force.

White said an automobile recently hit Mill Valley's jet fighter in Boyle Park, knocking it off its pedestal. He said the plane should be either restored or removed.

Councilman William M. Secor said the plane was repaired by Hamilton Air Force Base when it was damaged previously.

Council Gives Police, Firemen 40-Hr. Week

San Rafael's police and firemen will work a 40-hour week and get the same paid holidays as other city employees hereafter.

The city council last night by unanimous vote passed to print an ordinance setting up the 40-hour week — which police and firemen actually have been working for some time although the existing ordinance call for a 48-hour week.

The council then voted, again unanimously, to give police and firemen three paid holidays during the remainder of this fiscal year, and to incorporate into next year's salary ordinance provision for the same paid holidays for all city employees. Heretofore, firemen and policemen have been exempted from the ordinance's holiday provision.

Police Patrolman Gerald Sousa, representing employees in the two departments, told the council, "We got what we wanted—the same treatment as other employees. All I can say is thanks."

In November, N. C. Green of 2215 Fifth Avenue filed notice of intention to circulate petitions to put the 40-hour week and paid holidays for public safty employees on the April 12 ballot as a charter amendment. The notice was subsequently withdrawn when the council told employee representatives there was no need for such an approach.

The San Rafael City Council also:

1. Put over to Jan. 18 hearing on Paul Sade's appeal from planning commission rejection of rezoning property northwest of Bayo Vista Way.

2. Upheld planning commission denial on a lot split for Ed K. Lang in Racquet Club Estates. Several neighbors protested the split, claiming the resulting lots would be below the standard for the subdivision. The council agreed.

3. Continued to Jan. 18 hearing on abatement of a nuisance at the Rudolph Schwartzer apartment house at 1867 Lincoln Avenue, which has been standing unoccupied since it was damaged by the Puerto Suello railroad tunnel cave-in on July 22, 1961. Mayor John F. McInnis was about to close the hearing, but Building Inspector Jack Coates said a nuisance still exists as the empty building can be entered through broken windows.

4. Overruled planning commission turndown of a variance to permit John Bicknell to cover a car deck which extends within eight feet of the street at 332 Coleman Drive. The council was unanimous in finding no objection to his project.

5. Heard from Frank Battat, president of the Loch Lomond Home Owners Assn., that neon signs which were denied by the planning commission on Dec. 7 are nevertheless glowing at the Loch Lomond shopping center. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen was instructed to see that they are turned off.

6. Granted E. G. Easterday permission to build an apartment house extending over the levee easement on Canal Street, and V. W. Asbell permission to construct a retaining wall on city right of way—but off the paved street—at 30 Bret Harte Road.

7. Set for hearing Jan. 18 Mobil Oil Co.'s appeal from planning commission refusal of architectural approval for a service station on Bellam Boulevard.

8. Acknowledged a letter from William W. Howe of 95 Brodea Way thanking the city for improvements made on Highland and Deer Park avenues.

9. Adjourned to noon tomorrow, when councilmen hope to be able to appoint a new city engineer to succeed Dominic J. Selmi, who left city employ on Dec. 31 to join Dan Coleman and Associates, civil engineering firm in San Francisco.

Albee Drama Gets Award

LONDON (AP) — An American drama, Edward Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?", won the Evening Standard's annual award for London's best play of 1964.

Another import from America, "Little Me," was judged the best musical.

The paper's annual awards are made by a panel of drama critics.

Actress Puts Finger On Gem Theft Suspect

NEW YORK (UPI) — Actress Eva Gabor has identified Jack (Murf the Surf) Murphy and Alden Kuhn, two of the suspects in the Star of India gem theft, as the men who beat up and robbed her of a $25,000 diamond ring a year ago, authorities in Miami reported today.

The blonde actress and her husband, Dick Brown, identified the two beach boys when they were arraigned in New York yesterday in connection with the $410,000 gem heist from the American Museum of Natural History.

Welfare Aides' Strike Continues

NEW YORK (UPI) — Welfare services for a half-million needy in the nation's largest city were put on an emergency-only basis today because of the continuing strike of thousands of welfare workers in defiance to a court order and moves to dismiss them.

The city and leaders of two unions representing 11,600 social workers negotiated for 14 hours until early today without any apparent success in resolving the dispute over pay and working conditions.

State Supreme Court Justice Irvin H. Saypol kept his court in session until almost 1:30 a.m. in hopes there would be progress affecting his pending decision on whether to issue an injunction prohibiting the strike.

Proposals For Apartments Conflict With Master Plan

The effectiveness of the Kentfield Master Plan was questioned yesterday when the Marin County Planning Commission considered plans for two apartment developments along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Both proposed projects would be in conflict with the master plan, which has not yet been adopted. The plan calls for a unified commercial district in the area.

Chairman Niels Schultz Jr. said the property now zoned commercial permits apartments.

"What are you going to do with the plan if you can't hold certain spots sacrosant?" Protested Mrs. T. C. Wellman of Kentfield.

The owners have the zoning and and are entitled to use it, Schultz said.

"There goes the master plan, if it starts like this," Mrs. Wellman said.

The discussion arose as the commission was considering an application by B. J. Sirvain for architectural supervision of a 14-unit apartment building at 929 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The planning staff recommended that the commission delay the matter until after the board of supervisors has its hearing on the master plan Jan. 21.

The commission however, continued the matter only until Jan. 18. It also continued on application by Baimar Corp. for architectural supervision of a 12-unit apartment building at 915-919 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard until the same date.

The staff reported that the Baimar's proposed apartment also would be located in the area proposed for a unified commercial district.

Theft From Car

Gary A. Smith of 1563 Lincoln Avenue, Apt. 10, San Rafael, reported to police yesterday that someone stole a $12 pair of tortoise shell sun glasses, plus 875 business cards, from the glove compartment of his car, parked in his carport, Friday or Saturday.

Shortened Girl Gets Proposals

OSWESTERY, England (AP) — Four tall young men have proposed by letter to Anne Rowston — the 19-year-old girl who has undergone operations to reduce her height.

Friends of Anne said the letters have been received since Anne has been in the hospital.

Surgeons said that the last operation had been a success.

Anne's height has been reduced from 6 feet 7½ inches to just above 6 feet.

Surgeons made her shorter by removing bone from her legs. They are now considering shortening her arms.

Anne is expected to remain in the hospital for several months. For one thing, she must learn to walk all over again.

U.C. Measures Introduced

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two measures designed to punish both students and teachers who joined in the University of California demonstrations were introduced yesterday in the Senate.

The resolutions were by Sen. Jack Schrade, R-Del Mar.

One asked that the Senate urged the university to fire the teachers who participated in the Berkeley "free speech" demonstrations. The other asked the Senate to request that the school expel the students arrested and convicted of breaking a law in connection with the Sproul Hall sit-in.

The hermit thrush winters in Kentucky.

San Rafael Increases Its Size By 206 Acres

San Rafael grew by 206 acres last night, and the city council learned that another 87 acres is on the way.

The council voted 4-0 in final action on the Fagundes Ranch annexation which extends the city virtually all the way around the Terra Linda Community Services District. The vote was 4-0 because the fifth councilman, Louis H. Baar, absented himself while it was taken. He was broker in sale of the property to Permabilt Homes Inc., who plan to subdivide it. (San Rafael ordinance provides that a councilman cannot abstain from voting if present when the vote is taken.)

The 87 acres is Draper Companies land which will become the second unit of Northgate Industrial Park, across Highway 101 from the Fagundes annexation.

The council received notice that Draper Companies have petitioned to the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission for the annexation. The commission will hold a public hearing on it Jan. 14 at the Civic Center. If it approves, the annexation will then go before the city council.

Thief's Third Attempt Works

The third time was the charm for a determined burglar in San Rafael Saturday night.

William E. Barber of 204 Southern Heights Boulevard told police Sunday his two Dobermans had awakened him twice during the night, at 2:30 and at 4:30 a.m., leading him outside the house each time.

Once, he said, he heard an old car speeding away from his house.

At 8 a.m., Barber got up and found a $137 portable television set and two calf skin rugs, worth $50 each, were missing.

He told police the TV set was still sitting on a coffee table the last time he and his dogs got up and looked around.

Hopps Begins Serving His Sentence For Mail Fraud

BALTIMORE (AP) — Belvedere insuranceman Stewart B. Hopps has begun serving an 18-month sentence for mail fraud.

The 61-year-old financier surrendered himself to the U.S. Marshal yesterday and was to be taken to Lewisburg Federal Prison in Pennsylvania.

Hopps was convicted in February, 1963 of mailing false financial information to promote a Tangier, Morocco insurance company he controlled.

He was sentenced in March and an appeal was filed. But the U.S. Court of Appeals upheld the sentence last April. Hopps then asked the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari, which was denied in October.

Hopps used his last legal foothold last month and appealed to the U.S. District Court for a suspended sentence. Judge Roszel C. Thomsen turned Hopps down.

Burning Of Green Set At Peacock Gap

Peacock Gap Country Club members will conduct a Twelfth Night burning of the greens at 6 p.m. tomorrow in the lower parking lot of the club.

Reservations are being taken for dinner after the ceremony, club spokesmen said.

Mrs. LBJ Takes Shopping Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson made a quick trip to New York City today to have fittings on her inaugural wardrobe.

She took off on a commercial flight and planned to return to the White House late this afternoon, a spokesman said.

The fittings will be done at the Hotel Carlyle, where the family usually occupies a presidential suite on visits to New York City.

The Old Way

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The present method of using adobe bricks for building purposes in the Southwest was preceded by an ancient process of "puddling" the mud into the walls in stratified layers.

Roy Brown Makes 'Fine Progress'

Roy A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal, has made "fine progress" in recovering from a bleeding ulcer which sent him to San Rafael General Hospital last week, hospital authorities said today.

Brown, of 262 Linden Lane, San Rafael, was reported in satisfactory condition.

A Tall Tale

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fully one-third of a lion's overall length is made up of his tail, according to Encyclopedia International. Since the full grown male lion will be about 9 feet in length, this means his tail will be about 3 feet long.

ENTERS SCHOOL—Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald, widow of President John F. Kennedy's assassin, formally registered yesterday at University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Mrs. Oswald was among 100 students enrolling in the English Language Institute for an intensive course in language. The institute specializes in teaching English as a foreign language. Mrs. Oswald is a native of Russia. (UPI Telephoto)

San Rafael Will Outlaw Pole Houses

Pole houses will be outlawed in San Rafael, effective Feb. 17. The city council so indicated last night in unanimously voting to pass to print the 1964 Uniform Building Code with several amendments — one of which forbids pole houses.

The amendment was recommended by Chief Building Inspector Jack Coates. It provides that hillside houses must have continuous foundations and must be sheathed with wood or other covering material to within 18 inches of ground level or foundation, whichever is lower.

Coates said the pole houses constitute fire hazards, since flames beneath them cannot be effectively fought.

Carl S. Brown, manager of the Associated Home Builders of Marin, objected to the change. Pole construction "helps save the hillsides," he contended. He urged some controls be enacted without outlawing that type of construction.

Councilmen agreed to consider any such regulation he might later suggest as an amendment to the building code. Meanwhile, Mayor John F. McInnis asked that architects present their opinions on pole house construction.

Gets Year In Jail In Forgery Case

Owen K. Perry, 38, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court yesterday to one year in Marin County jail on his guilty plea to forging and passing a $145.26 check last Oct. 9.

Owens, formerly of Greenbrae, passed the check at the Cellars, 534 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Stock, Bond Brokers Now In New Mill Valley Offices

Stock and bond brokers Francis and Murray, Inc. are now operating from their new Mill Valley offices in the recently constructed building at 20 Sunnyside Avenue. Space is three times that at 29 Miller Avenue, allowing more room for teletype machines as well as cashiering, bookkeeping, research and trading departments necessitated by heavier activities at branches in Novato and San Leandro. Teletype equipment to be installed in the building will permit nationwide direct contact with other registered investment securities firms.

The San Leandro office was opened a few days ago and is now in full operation. Charles J. Francis, president of the firm, said it will make a primary market in the stock of the newly organized Commercial National Bank of San Leandro.

TAFT TRAVEL, San Rafael has announced a 1965 nine-months series of seven-day "Odyssey Cruises" to the Greek Islands and Turkey aboard two luxury cruise yachts. The two vessels will depart from Athens each Monday and Friday, beginning March 5 and continuing through November 29.

Tours are via the Sun Line of Athens, represented by Holland-America Line in the Western Hemisphere. The M. S. Stella Solaris and her sister ship M. S. Stella Maris will make calls at Crete, Rhodes, Istanbul, Delos and Mykonos.

WITH THE CLOSE of 1964, Captain Jens. L. Feragen of Ross, vice president of Fred. Olsen Line Agency, Ltd., has retired from a long maritime career that began in 1915 on both sail and steam vessels.

Capt. Feragen started with Olsen in 1919, serving on various ships, and became a captain in 1926 His last command was the M. S. Benjaman Franklin, which was employed in the Pacific Coast - European service. He exchanged his post on the bridge for an office desk in 1932.

JOSEPH F. EDELSTEIN of Sleepy Hollow is partner in the newly formed investment securities firm of Edelstein, Campbell and Co. which officially opened offices yesterday in the Equitable Building at 120 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. Edelstein was previously with York and Co., San Francisco.

Edelstein

His partner Harry A. Campbell of Orinda was formerly with J. S. Strauss and Co. Associates in the business Howard Miller and Louis E. Roncarati of Terra Linda were previously with York and Co.

JOHN HOEFER of Belvedere, president of Hoefer, Dieterick and Brown, and president of the San Francisco Better Business Bureau, was luncheon speaker today at St. Mary's College Executives' symposium.

ACCORDING TO J. J. Hartigan of Terra Linda, Bay Area sales manager for United Air Lines, the final days of 1964 saw this carrier become the first commercial airline in the world to fly more than 10 billion revenue passenger miles in one year. Before the horns blew at midnight New Year's Eve, the company expected to pass that mark by another 48 million miles.

This represents a 9.4 per cent increase over 1963, with the number of passengers carried up 6.8 per cent. Almost a quarter of a billion tons of cargo was carried last year, 19.4 per cent up from 1963. United, with the world's largest jet fleet, operates over an 18,000-mile nationwide network, serving 116 cities.

A NOTARY PUBLIC commission has been issued to Lucille C. Flori, 600 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo by Secretary of State Frank Jordan.

Defies Flood Wood Firm To Reopen

SEATTLE (AP) — Although plagued by serious transportation problems, lumber, plywood and specialty products plants of the Simpson Timber Co. resumed full operations today in Northern California, Washington and Oregon.

G. L. Oswald, vice president in charge of manufacturing, said approximately 1,000 workers returned to plants in Del Norte and Humboldt counties which escaped damage from widespread floods there. An additional 3,500 workers placed plants in Oregon and Washington into full operation.

However, an estimated 1,000 loggers were blocked from returning to the forests by bridge washouts in California and by deep snow in Washington's Mason and Grays Harbor counties. The company's Oregon logging operations are handled by subcontractors.

TWO JOBS? YOU MAY GET REFUND

(From the California Society of Certified Public Accountants)

Individuals who hold more than one job at any time during the year have Social Security payments withheld by each employer. Often these withholdings exceed $174 a year. When this occurs, the excess is considered as a prepayment of tax in the same manner as withholdings. By checking your W-2 forms given you by each employer at year's end you can determine if this provision applies to you. The instructions to your income tax tell you how to claim this prepayment of taxes.

If you worked for only one employer during the year, he will deduct your Social Security from the first $4,800 of wages and salary only. Thus, no excess withholding of Social Security should occur for you. You may also have paid (by withholding from your paycheck) more than $51 of California Disability Insurance.

A refund may be obtained by filing a claim with the California Department of Employment before June 30, 1965.

Small Business Offices Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration plans to establish eight new area offices, including one in San Francisco.

Congressional sources said the step is part of a decentralization program designed to make the agency more responsive to needs of small business.

The San Francisco area includes California, Alaska, Hawaii, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Guam.

Records Set By Kaiser During 1964

OAKLAND (AP) — Kaiser Steel Corp. estimated its finished product shipments for 1964 at 1.6 million tons, a record high.

President Jack L. Ashby has said steel shipments will exceed the previous high mark, set in 1961, by 14 per cent.

"In addition," he said in a year-end statement, "the seven Western states steel market will top the 7 million tone mark for the first time. . . .

"Other records set by Kaiser Steel in 1964 include new highs in ingot production — preliminary figures indicate more than 2.5 million tons — and shipments of hot rolled sheets and sheared plates."

Among the positive factors operating for Kaiser Steel, Ashby said, was an aggressive action in the world markets to acquire new business, and improvements in quality and service to customers.

Savings, Loan Branch Approved

Santa Rosa Savings and Loan Assn. has been granted a license by the California State Division of Savings and Loans to open a branch office in Novato.

J. Ralph Stone, president of the company, said it is hoped that temporary quarters will be opened by April 1. He said the company expects to purchase property in Novato and put up its own building, with completion scheduled for next fall, but no location has yet been selected.

Santa Rosa Savings, founded in 1888, closed 1964 with assets of over 88 million dollars. The main office is at 835 Fourth Street, Santa Rosa. Other offices are in Lakeport and Sonoma.

Stocks Close High In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply higher today.

Trading became active near the final bell.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.3 million shares, compared with 3.93 million Monday.

The advance added strength as the session wore on.

Brokers indicated that investors found bullish implications in President Johnson's State of the Union message in which he outlined plans for helping the economy.

Du Pont, which will sell 25 million shares of General Motors stock Feb. 8 under a court order, spurted more than 6 points, sending the averages suring upward.

General Motors, heavily traded, was off about half a point.

American Telephone was active and gained a fraction.

Gains of 2 points or more were made by Delaware & Hudson, McKee and Pure Oil.

Up more than a point were Allegheny & Western, Cenco, Disney, Filtrol, Grumman Aircraft, Harsco, Magnavox, National Dairy, Penney and Richfield Oil.

Prices advanced in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed and treasuries advanced.

Shipping Firm Signs Contract

SAN FRANCISCO — A 55-million dollar construction contract for four new advanced and automated cargoliners to be built for American President Lines has been signed in Washington D. C., George Killion, APL president, announced

The contract, signed jointly by APL, the federal Maritime administration and Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation, calls for the four 31,000-ton (displacement) liners to be built at Ingalls' Pascagoula, Miss., shipyard. An option to the agreement allows APL to contract for a fifth ship in the next seven months.

The new APL ships, known as the seamaster class, will be 572 feet long, 82 feet wide, with total cargo capacity of 818,858 cubic feet—larger than any cargo carrying ship now operating from the West Coast of the United States. Speed of the liners will be in excess of 35 knots.

Autos Have Second Best Year In '64

DETROIT (UPI) — The automotive industry, plagued by strikes by the United Auto Workers Union, was forced to settle for the second best production year in history during 1964.

Figures from the four major U.S. manufacturers showed they produced a total of 7,738,764 cars during the calendar year. The figures surpassed the 1963 total of 7,569,228 cars, but failed to top the record posted in 1955 of 7,942,132 cars.

The industry seemed sure to hit the eight million mark in car production for the first time in history until it ran into a series of crippling strikes. The UAW was on strike at General Motors for a total of 45 days and waged a two-week local strike against Ford that eventually stilled Ford's production lines.

However, the auto industry did manage to post its first eight million sales during 1964. An estimated 8.1 million cars, including imports, were sold during the calendar year. Import sales totaled more than 400,000.

Chrysler Record

DETROIT — Chrysler corporation produced 1,242,162 U. S. passenger cars during the 1964 calendar year to post its highest output since the all time high of 1,361,834 cars in 1955.

Banker Reports Record Figures

SAN FRANCISCO — All time highs in per share earnings, total assets, deposits, loans and capital funds for the tri-state Bank of California have been reported today by its president, Charles de Bretteville.

Bank of California wound up 1964 with net operating earnings of $5,767,651, up 20 per cent over last year, and per share earnings of $3.42, up 31 cents or 10 per cent, based on an average of 1,686,949 shares outstanding.

Last year's figures were $4,800,836 in net operating earnings and $3.11 in per share earnings, with an average of 1,543,429 shares outstanding.

Kaiser Establishes Los Angeles Center

OAKLAND—Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. has established a new aluminum fabricating and sales center in the City of Commerce, Los Angeles.

The facilities include the corporation's first extrusion plant on the Pacific coast, regional sales offices for several major product lines and a warehouse.

Steel Tops Problem List For New Year

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel is near the top of the list of problems the economy faces as the year starts.

The administration is worrying about the trends in steel prices, wages and stockpiling. Many businessmen are watching closely for a clue as to what could happen to their companies as a result of the moves in the steel industry. And most consumers could be affected directly or indirectly in time.

Price rises in some steel products led President Johnson to ask the chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers to make a study of the trend and see what, if anything, should or could be done about them.

Wage demands of the Steelworkers Union are watched to see if they will lead either to a strike that would unsettle the economy or to a spreading movement among other unions for much higher wages, and hence larger production costs, that could lay the groundwork for further inflation.

Stock building by steel consumers, already under way as a hedge against a possible strike or more price rises, seems sure to give the economy an artificial boost in the first months of 1965. Then, barring a strike, there would be a letdown later when steel users lived off their built-up inventories and stopped ordering more steel from the mills.

Profits play a dual role.

Union leaders cite rising profits of steel companies as proof they can afford to pay higher wages and confer more fringe benefits.

Management says profits are still too low. Steel executives contend their industry ranks near the bottom of the list of all industries in percentage of profits from sales or in return on investments.

This argument is used to justify the recent price increases — in reinforcing bars, some kinds of pipe, and galvanized sheets and coils. The argument is also used in their contention that other steel products — and more widely used ones — should be priced higher.

The administration is worried about steel price rises for several reasons. First is its apparent fear that increases in such a basic material will be passed along to buyers of finished products, whether industrial or consumer. Holding the rise in the cost of living to its comparatively moderate pace of 1.5 per cent a year is ticklish enough without taking on added risks.

Second apparent concern of the administration is that steel price rises, coming when higher profits are being announced, will encourage the steel union to boost its demands. If the demands are high, and are accepted by the companies, this would be the basis for still further steel price boosts. If the union demands seem too high to the companies, there could be a strike. And this could raise hob with all the glowing forecasts for the economy in 1965.

The historic Spanish name, Cape Canaveral, survives on maps though the rocket-studded sandspit became Cape Kennedy. The townsite there has remained Cape Canaveral, following residents' wishes.

TWO NEW SUPERVISORS TAKE OATH

Congressmen Seek To Halt Drain Plan

Clausen, Others Introduces Water Pollution Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five California congressmen introduced a bill yesterday to prevent the Reclamation Bureau from building an interceptor drain from the San Luis Project to the San Francisco Bay Area.

The ban would be lifted, under the proposed House legislation, only after the secretary of health, education and welfare certified that the drain would not further contaminate San Francisco Bay or adjacent waters, nor interfere with recreational and other uses of the area.

Language of the measure is almost identical with a Senate federal water pollution control bill which was pending before before the House Rules Committee when the 88th Congress adjourned.

JOINT STATEMENT

The House bill was introduced by John F. Baldwin, R-Martinez; Don H. Clausen, R-Crescent City; Robert L. Leggett, D-Vallejo; William S. Maillaird, R-San Francisco, and J. Arthur Younger, R-San Mateo.

They noted in a joint statement that the Public Health Service has asked for funds in the 1966 fiscal year to make a study of how to avoid further pollution of San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

Until this study is completed, they said, "it is completely inconsistent for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation. . .to construct a interceptor drain from the San Luis Reclamation Project to any point in the Delta or San Francisco Bay, as is now proposed."

Their bill would give the go-ahead only after the Public Health Service reported on its and the secretary of health, education and welfare informed Congress that the drain would cause no further pollution "in the forseeable future."

BAN INCLUDES

"It is becoming increasingly important," the five congressmen said, "to prevent the San Francisco Bay from being further polluted from any source, particularly from any federal agency."

The ban included the bay proper, San Pablo and Suisun bays, and the Delta.

In a telegram to President Johnson today, Baldwin commended the President for that section in his State of the Union message pledging a step-up of efforts to prevent pollution.

"May I point out to you however," the telegram to the President said, "that your Department of the Interior has made a budget request which is completely inconsistent with your announced objective of eliminating water pollution.

"This is its request for budget funds for fiscal year 1966 to construct an interceptor drain from the San Luis reclamation project. I urge that you take action immediately to strike this particular budget request from the budget. . .

"May I urge further that you include in that budget an alternate request of the Public Health Service for funds to make a study to determine how further pollution of the San Francisco Bay and the delta can be prevented.

"The California Water Pollution Control Board for the San Francisco Bay region has required local cities, other public bodies, and local industries to spend nearly $200 million to clear up pollution in San Francisco Bay.

"What good would such local efforts be if a federal agency comes in and unnecessarily pollutes the bay?"

Misner To Head GOP Unit Again

Gerald E. Misner of San Anselmo will again head the Marin County Republican Central Committee as chairman through 1965.

He was elected last night by unanimous vote, after another nominee, Charles Michals of Kentfield, withdrew from the running.

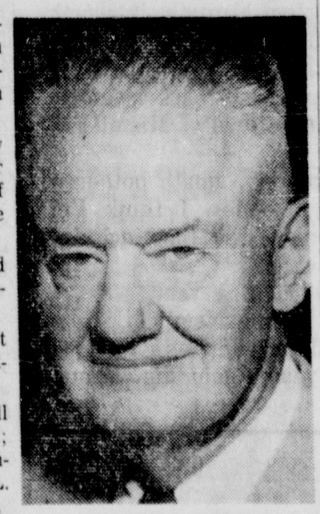
Michals was promptly elected vice chairman without opposition.

Other officers elected at last night's meeting in the courthouse were:

Virginia Wickersham of Mill Valley, women's vice chairman; Matthew A. Graham of San Anselmo, treasurer and William L. Curley of Kentfield, secretary.

Chairman Misner asked the members of the central committee to forget past disagreements. "The important thing is to gain more seats in the Legislature and Congress, and the election of a Republican governor, he said.

He said that three names have been mentioned thus far as possible Republican candidates for governor: Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, and actor Ronald Reagan.



GERALD E. MISNER
Re-elected, asks unity

The Marin GOP central committee members voted to retain the fourth Tuesday of each month as regular meeting date. Next meeting will be Jan. 26.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss administered the oath of office to the new central committee members, who were elected in November.

Chamber Office Will Open Jan. 27

Formal opening of the new Novato Chamber of Commerce office has been set tentatively for Jan. 27, Ross Tankersley, chairman of the relocation committee, last night reported to the chamber's board.

The new office is upstairs over Locke Plumbing Co. at 865 Sweetzer Avenue. The Chamber recently signed a five-year lease for the office. Present quarters are in the patio building at 864 Grant Avenue.

Harry Locke donated $100 to start a fund to buy new office furniture for the new offices.

Hy Silver was named chairman of the membership committee to replace Lee Wise. He reported that the chamber had 102 new members in 1964 and collected $11,590 in dues.

Ronald Lipe, chairman of the military affairs committee, reported that the next noncommissioned officers and businessman dinner has been set for March 18 at the Noncommissioned Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A birthday sale honoring the city's fifth anniversary will be held from Jan. 14 - 16, said Henry Puccinelli, retail committee chairman.

Indians In Flood Area Due Supplies

Plans to airlift supplies from Marin County to stranded Yurok Indians in the flooded Klamath River area were being made today by Gerald D. Fries, county coordinator for the National Defense Transportation Assn.

Fries said his group is working with Carl Hepp of Mill Valley, Timm Williams of Fairfax (who is Prince Lightfoot of the Yurok tribe), and others who are sponsoring a plan to send an ocean-going fishing vessel up the Klamath River with supplies.

Fries said his group will get airdrop locations from the California Indian Council in San Francisco and try to arrange for aircraft from Hamilton Air Force Base.

Supplies will also be flown to a fishing vessel to be operated by a professional fisherman whose wife is a Yurok, which will try to take supplies to Indians not reached by the airlift.

Fusselman Joins Bank As Executive

Longtime Marin County Supervisor William D. Fusselman today begins a new career—that of bank executive.

His appointment as vice president for new business of Tiburon National Bank was announced by Charles Tijerina, president and chairman of the board of the bank. Fusselman will have his office in the bank's Greenbrae-Kentfield branch on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and will start work within the next few days, Tijerina said.

Toray's changeover on the board of supervisors brought to a close Fusselman's 22-year service as representative of the Second Supervisorial District.

Before that he served nine years as city councilman and mayor in San Anselmo, where he lives with his wife Ada.

WILLIAM D. FUSSELMAN
Now he's a banker

In addition to a long career as a candy manufacturer and distributor, the new bank executive recalls experience as a printing shop owner, special officer for the Northern Pacific Railroad, milk sales firm operator, shipyard riveter, secretary-manager of Marvelous Marin, Inc., and vice president of the Redwood Empire Assn.

"I have known Bill for many years, and feel he has a lot to offer," Tijerina said in announcing Fusselman's new post. "He knows the area's economy, and will be of service both to the county and to the bank. We feel very fortunate to have him in our organization."

Fusselman's services to the bank will include contacting new accounts, encouraging new business in Marin County, and public relations functions, Tijerina said.

Board Urges Positive Action On Unification

Marin County Board of Education last night gave the County Committee on School District Organization a gentle push to resubmit a proposal for Tamalpais High School District unification which failed at the polls last spring.

The board passed a resolution urging "positive action on unification," but did not mention the Tamalpais district unification except in discussion.

"We shouldn't tell them in so many words," said board vice president James A. Carroll, author of the resolution.

"But this makes it clear we are against two-way or three-way splits," said Patrick W. Pollock. The committee will hold a public hearing on three different two-district unification proposals for the Tamalpais High School District area on Jan. 20.

"They should realize that the state board of education will never approve a proposal which splits Tamalpais district," said Mrs. Adele Alpers.

Mrs. Alpers later said that the state board of education will receive a proposal next week which would give county school boards responsibility for appointing members of school district organization committees. The committees are now appointed by school districts.

Athletic Assn. Funds Given For Picnic Area

Milton Schwartz, president of the San Rafael Athletic Assn., last night announced the disbanding of the association and presented its remaining funds—$501.51 — to the City of San Rafael.

Schwartz presented the check to the San Rafael City Council, to be used for the improvement of a picnic area at Albert Field, dedicated to the memory of Charles Pinza. Pinza, a charter member of the San Rafael Athletic Assn. and first custodian of Albert Field, died in October 1962.

Pinza was instrumental in starting Little League baseball and Pop Warner footbal in San Rafael.

The association, formed in 1944, was dedicated to the promotion of athletics and youth activities were taken over by the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission when that body was formed.

Mayor John F. McInnis said that until the city recreation program got going, "you people were the only ones who really put together a recreational program in the city."

McInnis asked Schwartz to work with the parks and recreation commission on plans for the picnic area. Schwartz also urged others to join in contributing to the memorial picnic area. Contributions toward the fund may be sent to the City of San Rafael marked for the Pinza Memorial Fund.

Lawmakers Seek Flood Area Aid

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The opening of the 1965 legislature yesterday found lawmakers quick to seek aid for flood-torn Northern California.

A total of 15 measures, all stamped "urgent," were introduced. Eight were filed in the Assembly and seven in the Senate.

The measures called for aid for federal, state and local roads and bridges, to rebuild damaged or destroyed public facilities, for special aid to schools, log removal and sale, special loans and tax relief.

Protestant, Catholic Services Set

Members of St. Raphael's Roman Catholic parish will attend worship services in San Rafael area Protestant Churches Jan. 17 to 24 during St. Raphael's "Unity Octave."

This is the first time the evening prayer services, calling for Christian unity, will be held jointly by Catholics and members of Presbyterian, Lutheran, Methodist and Episcopalian churches in this area, according to Rev. John Petroni of St. Raphael's and Rev. John D. Riley of St. Paul's Episcopal.

A planning meeting was to be held this afternoon at St. Paul's, attended by Reverends Petroni, Riley, Wesley C. Baker and T. Royal Scott of First Presbyterian, and Fred C. Braunschweiger of Trinity Lutheran, as well as Catholic laywoman Mrs. Vale Cliff.

Another innovation of this year's series of eight services will be a musical program at Dominican College, Riley said. In charge will be Presbyterian choirmaster Byron Jones and St. Paul's music director Barry Mineah. It will be the first time the octave services includes participation by the nuns of Dominican.

Another highlight of the week will be a Jan. 19 speech by Catholic Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken, at the annual dinner meeting of the Episcopal congregation.

State Planning To Rebuild Span

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state announced plans today to rebuild the permanent bridge on Highway 49 east of Auburn, torn out by floodwaters of American River.

Highway engineer J. C. Womack said the $305,000 span would be built because a temporary bridge "would involve risks of washout and steep, hazardous approaches.

He said the bridge probably would be completed in 90 days.

House Group Seeking Lumber Investigation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee called today for a congressional investigation of the fraudulent upgrading of lumber in a move to protect home builders and other lumber users.

The recommendation was made by a small business subcommittee flatly rejected proprosals for the setting of lumber standards by private industry rather than under government supervision.

It called for additional policing of lumber grading practices by the lumber industry. It also demanded more protection of the public by the Department of Commerce, the Federal Trade Commission and the Federal Housing Administration.

In asking for the congressional investigation, the House group said the fraudulent grading of lumber should be studied to determine whether state and federal laws were strong enough to deal with such practices.

"If state and federal laws are to be insufficient," the report said, "it is recommended that consideration be given to legislation requiring that any lumber sold in interstate or foreign commerce bear a grademark approved by the ALSC, unless the lumber is prominently marked 'ungraded lumber'."

The recommendations were contained in a report on hearings resulting from complaints that controversial new standards proposed by the ALSC in 1963 would hurt some segments of the industry.

The new standards were never placed into effect by the Commerce department because of the large number of complaints received — particularly by producers of green lumber who would have had to cut their lumber to slightly larger sizes than those set for dry lumber. The proposed standards would have shaved the dimensions of certain sizes of dry lumber.

The House report said the subcommittee had called the attention of the ALSC and federal agencies to the fraudulent upgrading of lumber and the use of counterfeit grading stamps. The ALSC later informed the House group that its activities had "restored the grading situation to a proper level" and that it would continue watching the situation.

The assurance from ALSC apparently did not satisfy the House group, which recommended that "all necessary steps be taken to insure that the public is receiving properly graded lumber." It called for the FTC to "proceed with both dispatch and vigor to fully investigate past and present deceptions from the public." The congressmen also called upon the Commerce Department and the ALSC "to take all necessary steps to insure that the consumer receives the product for which he is paying."

Oldtime Film Actor Ailing

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Oldtime actor Edmund Lowe, 72, was admitted to Mt. Sinai Hospital today after being removed from his Bel-Aire home by ambulance.

Doctors refused to disclose the reason for his hospitalization.

Lowe, famed for his dapper mustache and dashing roles in the 1930s, suffered an illness in 1959 and placed his property and other assets in the hands of a conservator.

Hospital Expansion Approved

Plans for expansion of the Marin Convalescent and Rehabilitation Hospital were approved last night by the Tiburon Planning Commission.

Mossoni Properties, Inc., plans to add 4,500 square feet to the hospital, which will allow addition of 24 beds to the 56 existing ones. The hospital is located on a bluff near a residential area and is reached via Hacienda Drive.

Five residents spoke against the addition and two letters were read into the record opposing it, primarily on grounds that it would create a sewage disposal problem and that the road is inadequate.

Commissioners asked residents to check sewage facilities with the Tiburon Sanitary District. They unanimously approved plans for the addition if Hacienda Drive is improved within a year, if no drug addicts are treated at the hospital, and if the addition meets architectural and parking requirements.

The Tiburon Planning Commission also:

1. Granted George Cohoat a two-year permit for selling and renting boats at 21 Main Street.
2. Reaffirmed by 4-1 vote rejection of Juanita Aurgegy's request to subdivide two lots into three near 2145 Centro East. Commissioner Helen B. Newman dissented.
3. Reversed a previous decision to allow Joanne Peyton to split a lot in the 100 block of Hacienda Drive.

120-Acre Trailer Park Gets Permit

The Novato Planning Commission last night granted John A. Lyddon a permit for a 120-acre trailer park south of Hamilton Air Force Base and east of Highway 101. The land was recently rezoned to permit the trailer park use.

The commission granted McGillicuddy, Inc., rezoning from single family to apartments for a lot at Diablo Avenue and Center Road, and approved the company's tentative map for the 10-lot Bret Court subdivision on four acres adjacent to the lot rezoned.

Also approved was the tentative map of 24-lot Rancho Village Unit 9 on eight acres, by Crown Development Co.

J and E Builders Inc. was given architectural approval for a five-unit apartment house at 1117 Olive Avenue.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Approved lot splits by E. R. Straus on Ridge Road and by Francisco A. Fonseca on Hayden Avenue.
2. Approved conversion of a single-family home into two professional offices by R. E. Moeller at 1713 Novato Boulevard.

Teacher Pay Hikes Urged

INGLEWOOD (AP)—Trustees of California's 16 state colleges are recommending substantial pay increases for faculty members and administrators.

The board attacked "inadequate pay scales" yesterday in a report to the Legislature and Gov. Brown.

Among present and proposed maximums: Professor II, $16,100-$21,600; vice president $18,600-$25,000; president, $25,000-$30,400, and vice chancellor, $27,600-$31,900.

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke's salary would be raised from $35,000 to $38,605.

Birth Control Program Set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The County Health Department is starting a pilot program in the use of oral contraceptives by welfare recipients and women in low income groups.

Dr. Gerald A.Heidbreder, chief health officer, said yesterday that 100 women would be used in the initial three-month test.

If successful, the county will be asked to provide funds for the program's expansion to include larger numbers of women welfare recipients and others with low incomes.

The contraceptive, Enovid, is being provided free by G. D. Searle and Co. for the pilot program, he said.

I'M WORTH A MILLION, CLAIMS BROWNS' RYAN

HOUSTON (AP)—Quarterback Frank Ryan of the champion Cleveland Browns of the National Football League says if Joe Namath is worth $400,000, I'm worth a million.

Ryan made the comment after watching Namath, the star Alabama quarterback, perform against Texas in the Orange Bowl at Miami Friday night.

Asked if the price tag on Namath bothered him, Ryan said "Certainly it does. I think I'm worth more than any rookie, and that includes my future value to any club."

Ryan earns about $25,000 a year.

Namath was signed by the New York Jets of the American Football League for a total of about $400,000 for three years, including various fringe benefits.

UCLA Rated No 1 Cage Team In Nation

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA's red-hot Bruins, the 1964 NCAA champions, have replaced Michigan as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team and figure to enjoy their status a bit longer than Indiana did.

The Hoosiers, who surged into second place on the Associated Press poll, suffered their first setback of the Season last night, losing their Big Tten opener to Illinois 86-81. UCLA doesn't play until Friday so the Bruins are safe until then.

The defending champions, upset in their season opener by the same Illini which scalped Indiana, knocked off Arizona, Minnesota and Utah last week to extend their winning streak to nine straight.

UCLA received 26 first place votes from the panel of 41 experts and advanced from fourth place to the top with a total of 379 points. Indiana, until yesterday one of the two remaining major undefeated teams, attracted 12 first place votes and piled up 315 points sweeping past Michigan.

The Wolverines, upset by St. John's of New York in the finals of the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden, dropped to third and did not receive a single first place vote.

Other first place votes went to St. Joseph's, which got one, and Providence, which received two. St. Joseph's winner of the Quaker City Tournament but upset by Providence later in the week, climbed from 10th to fourth. The Philadelphia five, owner of a 10-1 record, trailed Michigan in points, 177 to 229.

Providence jumped into ninth place on the strength of a 65-61 triumph over St. Joseph's boosting its record to 8-0. The Friars made it nine straight with a 72-65 victory over Fairfield yesterday. Providence got 111 points, nine more than 10th place Davidson.

Wichita, which bowed to St. Joseph's in the finals of the Quaker City Tournament in Philadelphia, slipped from second to fifth, edging out sixth-place Duke, 162 points to 148. Duke, eighth a week ago, raised its record to 7-1 with victories over Ohio State and Wake Forest.

St. John's, ousted from the top ten a week ago, sprang back into seventh place with 140 points. The Redmen whipped La-Salle and Cincinnati before upseting Michigan 75-74 in the ECAC Holiday Festival. They have a 7-2 record.

Although knocked off the unbeaten list via 73-71 loss to Santa Clara, San Francisco remained in the top ten, slipping from fifth to eighth with 120 points. The Dons added two victories last week prior to their defeat for an 8-1 record.

Three teams — Minnesota, Illinois and St. Louis — were ousted from the top ten. The Gophers, who began the week in third place with a 6-0 record, split four games during the week, losing to UCLA and Iowa. Illinois lost to St. Joseph's and St. Louis was beaten by Indiana and Southern Methodist.

The top ten, with first place votes, won-lost records through games of Monday, Jan. 4, and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis: (Poll based on games through Sat. Jan. 2)

1. U.C.L.A.	26		9-1	379
2. Indiana	12		9-1	315
3. Michigan			8-2	229
4. St. Joseph's		1	10-1	177
5. Wichita			9-2	162
6. Duke			7-1	148
7. St. John's, N.Y.			7-2	140
8. San Francisco			8-1	120
9. Providence		2	9-0	111
10. Davidson			10-1	102

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Bradley, Cincinnati, Connecticut, DePaul, Florida, Illinois, Kansa, Miami of Ohio, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico, Princeton, St. Louis, Tennessee, Utah, Vanderbilt, Villanova.

SKIING IS EXCELLENT, IF YOU CAN GET THERE

Squaw Valley is loaded with snow, and more is expected in the next few days. In the photo at left, a pair of skiers look toward Badger Pass from the ski slopes at Squaw Valley after a very heavy snowfall. The traffic lower in the valley was snarled by the snowfall as many weekend skiers found it impossible to get back home. In the photo on the right, skiers come up on the lift from the valley floor below. Skiing conditions are reported excellent at Squaw Valley, but the big problem facing ski enthusiasts is how to get to and from the resorts. (UPI Telephoto)

Best-Of-Three Series No Way For NFL To Aid Pension Fund

HANLEY

There is little chance National Football League owners will approve that player proposal of a three-game playoff series to replace the current one game championship match between Eastern and Western Conference winners.

Such a series would seem strange, indeed, in settling a football championship. It can't be argued successfully that baseball determines its world champion in a seven-game series—so why not a three-game series to determine the football champ.

The strength of a baseball team is its pitching staff and the World Series of seven games is soundly designed to test that strength.

Pro football teams operate with only one pitcher—the quarterback. His pitching determines success or failure. And traditionally he is given one game to win or lose.

However, there are other reasons why NFL owners will not approve any three-game playoff series. First, the best-of-three series wouldn't be any more decisive than one game now is. Second, the avowed objective of the player proposal is self-serving to such an extent that public confidence in such a series would be tinged with cynicism.

NOBODY BLAMES NFL players for trying to fatten their pension fund but a best-of-three series is not the way to do it. Such a series might be too much of a temptation to some players to enrich the fund. Even if every participant played his best in the second game of a three-game series, there always would be some cynics ready with wisecracks if the series went to three games.

IN ANY EVENT, the players couldn't be permitted to participate directly in any gate or TV proceeds other than those of the first game. Baseball players are not permitted to share in World Series receipts other than the initial four games.

As it is now, the NFL player pension fund is a handsome set-up into which more than one million dollars is being pumped annually from the TV receipts of the championship and the Playoff Bowl games. Annual infusions of one million dollars should keep it quite healthy without the necessity of subsidiary shots from any best-of-three series.

Marin Catholics Snap Loss Slump

Marin Catholic blasted Analy 59-41, and San Rafael fell to Lincoln 60-57 in prep basketball action yesterday.

The Wildcats from Marin won their first game since early December to snap a six-game losing skid. By intermission yesterday, the visiting Marin quint had a 26-22 lead. The Wildcats opened up in the second half to spread the victory gap, closing out their practice slate with a 3-7 record.

Tom Soden was the star for Marin with 16 points and 13 rebounds, leading in both categories. Bill Shine had 15 points, Dave Morrell added another 10, and Bob Lombardi grabbed 11 rebounds.

Marin Catholic's "B" cagers made it clean sweep by downing the Sebastopol team 47-41. Jim Ingrassia led the scoring for Marin with 15 points. Caesarino Bornia, a 6-2 freshman for Marin, scored 10 points and snagged 14 rebounds.

San Rafael had a fat 34-26 lead over the San Franciscans at the halfway mark but Lincoln rallied in the second half for 34 points while holding the Bulldogs to only 23. The loss gave San Rafael an even 5-5 record to take into the start of the Marin Athletic League cage schedule.

Ken Erdman led the San Rafael attack with 19 points. Bill Pandiani chipped in with 10 digits. The game was played on the San Rafael court.

The San Rafael Bullpups won the Class B game over the Lincoln lightweights, 48-45. Rich Schau paced the winners with 17 points.

MARIN FIVE EYES 11TH WIN IN ROW

College of Marin's basketball team will put its 10-game win streak on the line tonight when the Tars take on West Valley Junior College at 8 o'clock in Campbell.

Marin will be winding up its most successful practice game season under the coaching of Cal Riemcke tonight. The Tars have 12 wins and 2 losses going into tonight's game. Best prior practice game record was in the 1957-58 season when the Tars started league play with a 9-3 mark. It was Riemcke's first season as cage coach for the Mariners.

West Valley Junior College is in its first year of existence at Campbell. The cagers are a high-scoring team that won the consolation trophy at the Coast Conference Tournament Dec. 19. Marin won the championship trophy of that tourney, but the Tars didn't play West Valley.

Since winning the championships of the Golden Valley Conference and Coast Conference tourneys (a combined total of six triumphs), the Tars have swept to four other wins. The closest spread among the last four games was 15 points. Scores were 87-64 over Reedley, 111-92 over Porterville, 90-68 over Diablo, and 86-71 over American River.

Leading the scoring for the Mariners are guards Brad Busch and Jay Johnson, while Jim Halm and Fred Arnold, both 6-7, do the heavy work on the boards.

The Tars open Golden Valley Conference play Saturday night with a home game against Yuba College at 8 o'clock. Marin will be a strong favorite to win the GVC crown.

Didn't Sign With Raiders, He Says

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pro football's signing war keeps stirring up a fuss even among the college stars on the other end of the rich offers.

The latest entry in the Did-I-Or-Didn't-I-Sign-A-Contract-With-You derby is Nebraska halfback Kent McCloughan, who was claimed triumphantly by the Oakland Raiders of the American League and promptly denied ever autographing a Raider contract.

"Oakland talked to me," said McCloughan yesterday, but I did not sign."

The youngster, in Honolulu to play in Friday's Hula Bowl, said he was leaning toward Oakland, which acquired rights to him from Houston last week. McCloughan was chosen No. 3 by Houston in the AFL draft and also was picked third by Washington in the National League.

The Nebraska back said he may want to go out for track in the spring. But signing a contract would prohibit any further collegiate competition for him. In Oakland, Raider officials declined comment on the McCloughan case.

Elsewhere, Cleveland Brown quarterback Frank Ryan added fuel to the first by remarking that if Joe Namath is "worth $400,000, I'm worth a million."

Namath is the Alabama quarterback who was snared by the AFL's New York Jets in a three-year agreement for a reported $400,000 last week.

Ryan, who led the Browns to the NFL championship made the remark after watching Namath perform in the Orange Bowl.

Namath wasn't the only college star whose signature came at figures higher than most established pros earn. There was the case of Florida State's ace passing combination of Steve Tensi and Fred Biletnikoff.

The Jacksonville Journal reported yesterday that Tensi's agreement with the AFL's San Diego Chargers provided $70,000 in a two-year package. And Tensi's batterymate, Biletnikoff, was reported by the same paper to have received $150,000 from Oakland.

Neither Florida State player would confirm the financial quotations although both admitted inking two-year contracts.

And, then there was the routine announcement that Roger Pette, a linebacker from the University of Florida, had signed with Dallas of the NFL

He was given a one-year contract and, at last word, it was the only agreement he had signed.

CHICAGO, MARCH 5

Machen, Terrell Title Bout Set

CHICAGO (AP) — The World Boxing Association, an organization which stripped Cassius Clay of his title and ignores Sonny Liston, has approved a heavyweight championship bout between Ernie Terrell of Chicago and Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore.

The two fighters signed yesterday to meet for the crown in Chicago's International Amphitheatre March 5.

The Amphitheatre, which is also the Stockyards Arena, can seat 12,000. With co-promoters Irv Schoenwald and Joe Kellman scaling tickets from $20 to $3, a sellout would produce a gate of $100,000.

Schoenwald, who along with Kellman has been trying to create boxing interest in Chicago since the court-ordered downfall of the International Boxing Club, says he expects a gate of $60,000 to $70,000.

The World Boxing Association is recognized in every state except New York and Massachusetts. Under WBA ratings the 6-foot-5 Terrell, with a 36-4 record, is ranked No. 1 contender. Former champion Floyd Patterson is No. 2, George Chuvalo of Toronto is No. 3 and Machen is No. 4.

Asked if he thought the public would accept the winner as heavyweight champion, Schoenwald said "The attendance at the fight will decide whether the public will accept or not."

Before the Terrell-Machen fight, Patterson and Chuvalo have a Feb. 1 date in New York which has no significance on the title bout unless the WBA decides the winner of that fight must meet the winner of the Terrell-Machen fight.

Terrell originally was to have met Cleveland Williams for the WBA heavyweight crown. Williams, however, was wounded in a fracas with the police in Houston Nov. 29 and Machen, who fought Williams to a draw in Houston in 1962, was substituted Machen's record is 46-5-2.

Wilt, Celts Beating Last Season's Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain and the Boston Celtics are running ahead of their 1963-64 championship pace in the National Basketball Association's individual and team figures.

San Francisco's Chamberlain tops the NBA scorers with a 39.5 average in 36 games, five points better than his per-game mark at a similar point last season. The Celtics, defending league champions, have dropped only seven of 40 starts. Last Jan. 5 their record was 26-7.

Chamberlain maintained a commanding lead over Jerry West of Los Angeles in the individual point standings, according to weekly statistics released today. Boston's Sam Jones and Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson held their No. 3 and 4 positions.

New York rookie Willis Reed climbed into a 10th place tie with Hal Greer of Philadelphia, ninth last week. Bailey Howell of Baltimore with a string of 16 field goals in 16 attempts over his last two games, moved past Greer into the No. 9 position while the Royals' Jerry Lucas and the Bullets' Gus Johnson, seventh and eighth a week ago, exchanged places.

Walt Bellamy's .506 percentage pushed the Baltimore pivot past West, .501, for the field goal accuracy lead. Adrian Smith of the Royals is the No. 1 foul shooter, having hit on 117 of 133 free throws for an .880 percentage.

Robertson, the playmaking leader, has boosted his assists mark from 11.1 to 11.3 per-contest. Chamberlain is closing on Boston's Bill Russell in the rebounding department. Russell has 919 retrieves to 842 for Wilt, whose 23.4 per-game average tops the Celtics giant.

Bass Undergoes Knee Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A physician says veteran Rams fullback Dick Bass' chronic knee problems should be cured, now that the Rams star has undergone surgery to remove cartilage.

Navy Still Without A Grid Coach

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The head football coaching job at Navy is still open and probably won't be filled until late this month, the Naval Academy superintendent said yesterday.

"We want to make sure we're not overlooking anybody," Rear Adm. Charles S. Minter Jr. said. "We are trying to be fair to ourselves and to all the prospects."

He said the academy wants to see what prospects might develop between now and the end of the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention and the American Football Coaches Association meetings in Chicago next week.

The vacancy developed last month when Wayne Hardin, head coach for six years, resigned in a contract dispute.

Two of his assistants, Doug Scovil and Dave Hart, have been prominently mentioned as his successor. The academy also is known to have received a number of applications from coaches elsewhere.

San Rafael Pads Tie Pro Pin Loop Champs

The San Rafael Padres and Stockton 300's battled to a tie to end the first half of the Western Professional Bowling League Sunday at Pacific Avenue Bowl in Stockton.

It was the first tie of the league season, with each team registering 20 points. It was a close match throughout, and wasn't decided until the last frame of the last game when Grover Baker of Stockton edged San Rafael's Ron Lister, 237 to 227.

Stockton won the first half with a record of 11 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie. San Rafael ended up in fourth place with a 6-7-1 mark.

Baker had the top series of the match, 1150, on games of 170, 247, 278, 218 and 237. Lisher topped the Padres with 217-205-279-201-227—1129. Terry Booth regained his touch for the Padres and fired 234-217-236-224—911, and Dick Treadway added an 854 series on games of 215, 188, 223 and 228.

Starting second half action next Sunday, the Padres will host the El Cerrito Gators at Country Club Bowl, 6 p.m.

Final standings for the first half:

	W	L
Stockton	11½	2½
Carmichael	10	4
S. San Francisco	9	5
San Rafael	6½	7½
Fremont	5	9
San Francisco	5	9
El Cerrito	5	9
Santa Clara	4	10

49ERS CREATE NEW SCOUTING DIRECTOR JOB

The appointment of Jack White to a newly created position of director of scouting was announced yesterday by the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

White, director of personnel for the New York Yankees baseball team from 1945 until November 1964, has been a parttime scout for the 49ers the past 13 years.

The 49ers said that White would head up its intensified recruitment department, which has doubled in size the past year. He will work directly with Lynn Pappy Waldorf, the 49ers director of personnel.

White's new position is full-time, at an undisclosed salary. He is a native of New Britain, Conn.

Final Days Of Waterfowl Hunt; Storms' Tragic Toll Of Fish

STEVENS

This is the week that is—the finish of the greater part of the waterfowl season. You still have a chance tomorrow for the slaying of ducks, coots, and gallinules, the gentle jacksnipe, and also you can legally shoot ducks, geese, coots and gallinules until the close of Thursday in Northeastern California, in the Colorado River area. Note, please, that it will be legal to gun geese through Jan. 10.

The band-tailed pigeon season will remain open through Jan. 10, except for those counties which had an earlier season and are already closed.

On Friday, Jan. 8, at 10 a.m. in Room 1194, State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, S.F., the Fish and Game commission will meet to okay or turn down the first depredation hunt for pheasants.

The DFG has proposed 900 permits, 150 for each of six successive Saturdays beginning Feb. 6 and ending March 13. Each permit would entitle a hunter to take one male and one female bird. A fee of $2 would be charged and permits would be issued on a first-come, first-served basis.

Mind you — the above proposals are only DFG recommendations. The final terms for the hunt (if decided) must come from the Commission.

The major storms and their effect on the immediate future of fishing is rather a tragic thing. The exact amount of damage is not complete, but some discouraging data has been accumulated. For example: At the Nimbus hatchery on the Sacramento River, near Sacramento, heavy siltation has caused the loss of 280,000 yearling steelhead, the entire amount on hand. Also, 40,000 of the 50,000 yearling king salmon on hand have been killed by heavy silt which suffocates the fish.

The American River king salmon resource appears to be in fairly good shape, because the silt does not seem to have affected the 20,000,000 eggs on hand.

The steelhead picture is not so bright, but not as disastrous either, the DFG stated. This past summer, over a half million steelhead fingerlings were planted and this plus some natural spawning should provide good numbers of steelhead in the 1966 and 1967 spawning runs. However, we may expect a lower yield than if the floods hadn't occurred.

The bottom portion of the Nimbus ladder was washed away, but temporary facilities will be constructed to accommodate this winter's steelhead run.

At the state's experimental hatchery on Cedar Creek, a tributary of the Eel in Mendocino County, all 200,000 steelhead in the ponds were washed down the river by floods. However, many of these fish will reach the ocean and come back to spawn, and so will not be lost to the fishery. Water was reported to be window high at houses and buildings at the hatchery.

When Nature goes on a rampage, puny man is pushed aside.

So that's it for today. Hope for less stormy weather, and stick around until Thursday. I'll have, I hope, better news to report.

NOVATO 'SURPRISE' QUINTET

By RALPH CHATOIAN
(Sixth in a series on prospects of Marin Athletic League basketball teams for the 1964-65 season.)

Nobody is more surprised than Novato High School basketball coach John Panagakis about the early season success of the Hornets cage team.

Although Novato is co-defending champion of the Marin Athletic League basketball campaign, Panagakis lost most of his team that was predominantly a senior squad. Most coaches in the league, including John himself, didn't expect the Hornets to be in the thick of the battle for the crown this time around, but since the practice season has gotten underway, most observers have changed their minds.

Novato won five of its seven practice games, including one over Montgomery High of Santa Rosa, reputed to be one of the better teams around the North Bay. After that game, some of the MAL coaches promoted Novato to the top of the list of league contenders.

"Yes, I was surprised by our early season showing," said Panagakis. "We don't have a lot of experience, but the boys are playing good ball."

The team includes two returnees from last year's title squad, both guards. Ron Rowell, a 5-10 senior, saw a lot of action last year for the Hornets, but 6-1 John Dolinsek, a junior, didn't play too much.

The rest of the team is made up of five boys who played junior varsity ball last year and four others who played on the Hornets Class B team.

Ex-J.V. players are senior center Tom Stetson (6-4), junior center-forward Al Parsons (6-2), senior forward Tony Burchett (6-0), junior forward John Youngs (5-11), and junior center George Homenko (6-5).

From the 1963-64 "B" team are junior forward Tom Corder (6-0), junior forward Ev Fritz (6-0), senior guard Don Phillips (5-7), and senior guard Dennis Major (5-8). Phillips was an all-league performer for the Bees last year.

Another boy who was expected to play this year is junior center Tom Owens (6-4), but he is out of action indefinitely with a knee injury.

The "vets" of the team, Dolinsek and Rowell, will be starting at the guard positions for Novato. Other probable starters will be Fritz and Corder at the forward spots and Stetson at center. All five are good shooters, so opposing teams will have their defensive hands full.

The point-making isn't listed as a problem by Panagakis, but he concedes his team has a problem in the rebounding department. Overall, the Novato mentor feels "it will be a really good, even league." As the teams to beat, he picks Marin Catholic, San Rafael and Terra Linda. When asked to comment on Novato's chances to repeat as champion, he smiled, "It will be an interesting year. We'll give all the teams a real good game."

Novato had an overall record of 19 wins and 9 losses last season, and a league mark of 10 and 2. The Hornets will play their first Marin Athletic League game against the school that tied them for the title last year, San Rafael, in the Bulldogs' gym, 8:15 p.m., Jan. 8.

Bruins' Strength Horrifies Bears

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mention UCLA to California basketball coach Rene Herrerias and an expression of horrified incredulity crosses his face.

"I don't see how they could be better than last year," said Herrerias yesterday at the Northern California Basketball Writers lunch. "But the Bruins have such depth—what speed."

Herrerias has yet to see the Bruins in action. But his assistant, Bob Blake, watched the Los Angeles Classic last week and made a report about UCLA's three victories, two over previously undefeated teams.

"You can stick with them for 15 or 20 minutes, but then they kill you in two minutes," said Herrerias about the 9-1 Bruins. "They can score 20 points quick as that."

Herrerias doesn't have to worry about the defending NCAA champions until a week from Friday. First it's Washington Friday at Berkeley in a Pacific Athletic Conference clash.

The Huskies are another team Herrerias hasn't seen, but they also played in Los Angeles.

"They're a different type of team," said Herrerias. "They don't have much patience—two or three passes and up it goes."

Stanford meets Washington Saturday in a televised afternoon game. On Friday, it's Washington State, the opponent for Cal the next night.

"Their record is not impressive," admitted Stanford coach Howie Dallmar about the WSU Cougars. "It's a young team, but they have size."

NO HANDICAP

Dallmar said playing in the afternoon won't be a handicap for the Indians since the other squad also must adjust. But, Dallmar added, it becomes a problem when a team plays a televised contest in the state of Washington since it will be necessary to travel from Seattle to Pullman or the other way around and then compete in the afternoon.

The writers, meeting for the first time in three weeks, had a backlog of players to honor. The two previous awards went to Dan Wolthers of California and Mike Gervasoni of Santa Clara.

The player-of-the-week award for the week past went to Eric Paulson of Santa Clara, the most valuable player of the West Coast Athletic tournament. His 20 points and defensive work enabled the Broncos to defeat previously unbeaten San Francisco 73-71 in the championship game.

"USF had won so many close ones that we didn't believe it until it was over," said Dick Garibaldi, the Bronco coach. "I really don't know what we'll do in the league, however."

Earl Towne Leads Bowling Leagues

Earl Towne highlighted the bowling action at Nave Lanes for the last week of 1964 when he rolled a 647 series that included games of 247 and 213 in the Monday Men's Handicap League.

Towne tied with Jack Martin of the Hawaiian League for high game honors, both with 247's. John Coffey and Charles Light both fired 245's in the Nave Masters League.

Jackie Newsom paced the women with a 585 series that included games of 208 and 199 in the Banker's League. High game for the gals was rolled by Olive Raymond, 214 in the Capri Capers League.

SENIOR BOWL SATURDAY

South Loses Biletnikoff

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A knee injury has removed Florida State's brilliant flanker back, Fred Biletnikoff, from the South roster as opposing squads prepared for their annual clash in the Senior Bowl Saturday.

Biletnikoff's loss, announced yesterday, was a blow to the South's offensive plans. He had been counted on as a prime candidate for the passes of Alabama's Joe Namath and Steve Tensil of Florida State.

Biletnikoff hurt his knee in the Gator Bowl game last Saturday, won by Florida State over Oklahoma 36-19. The flanker back caught a record-breaking four touchdowns in that contest.

South Coach Tom Landry replaced Biletnikoff with Tulsa defensive specialist Gary Porterfield, a 6-foot-3, 230-pounder.

The Rebels needed defense more than offense, Landry said.

"We have Ray Ogden of Alabama and quarterback Bob Schweickert of Virginia Tech who can play split end. With that pair and Bob Hayes of Florida A&M we have enough good receivers."

Meanwhile, the North squad, relatively free of injuries, ran through game assignments yesterday and practiced plays.

Boston College end Bill Cronin suffered a slight ankle injury when he slipped and fell near the windup of the drill, but trainers said the injury was not believed serious.

North Coach George Wilson, formerly of the Detroit Lions, said he hasn't picked his starting backfield yet.

Rules for the game were announced yesterday, with a new wrinkle. The regulations include free substitution and permission for the clubs to go for one or two-point conversions. Field goal efforts will remain college style, with the goal posts at the back of the end zone rather than on the goal line.

The new feature allows a team which is still nine points behind after scoring to elect to receive the following kickoff.

Redskin Leads NFL Golf Play

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Washington Redskin linebacker John Reger headed the pack yesterday in the first round of the fifth annual National Football League golf tournament.

Reger, who shot in the 90s in last year's tournament, carded a 38-37—75 on the par 35-35—70, 6,479-yard Hollywood Beach Hotel course.

He was one stroke ahead of Jim Bakken, St. Louis place kicker who shot a 37-39—76.

A three-way tie developed for third between defending champion King Hill, Philadelphia Eagle quarterback, Bob Taylor, New York Giant defensive end, and John Brodie, San Francisco 49er quarterback. All had 79s.

Rounding out the top 10 were Jesse Whittendon, Green Bay defensive back, 81; Zeke Bratkowski, Green Bay quarterback, 83; Bernie Parrish, Cleveland defensive half, 84; Maury Youmans, Dallas defensive end, 85; and Billy Gambrell, St. Louis end, 88.

The tournament this year has been expanded to 54 holes. First prize is a new car.

Jack McCartan Rejoins Blades

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Olympics star Jack McCartan, a solid performer with the Los Angeles Blades two years ago, is returning to the squad, says a team spokesman.

General manager Jack Geyer announced yesterday that McCartan had been acquired from St. Louis of the Central League and would join the team in Vancouver for tonight's game.

McCartan performed in 60 games for Los Angeles in the 1962-63 season and averaged 3.12 goals per game, third best in the league.

He was a goalie on the American team that won the 1960 Olympic ice hockey championship at Squaw Valley, Calif.

PRO SIGNING

Georgia Offers To Forfeit Victories

ATLANTA (AP) — The University of Georgia has offered to forfeit all its 1964 football victories, including the Sun Bowl game with Texas Tech, because of the pro signing of tackle Jim Wilson before the season ended.

But none of the seven institutions whose teams lost to Georgia has accepted the offer, reported the Atlanta Journal yesterday.

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, president of the university, wrote the presidents of the other institutions at the request of Athletic Diretcor Joel Eaves and Football Coach Vince Dooley.

"I have written Dr. Aderhold that Georgia Tech most certainly will not accept the offer to forfeit," said Dr. Edwin Harrison, president of Georgia Tech — the Atlanta-based rival of Georgia.

"I think it is fine sportsmanship on the university's part to make the offer, but certainly their athletic director and coaches knew nothing about this signing. Georgia is in no way to blame," Harrison said.

Wilson admitted he signed an undated contract with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League last fall in violation of college regulations. The signing was disclosed after Wilson signed with the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League following the Sun Bowl game Dec. 26.

Both teams are claiming Wilson.

Texas Tech, which lost to Georgia in the bowl game, rejected te forfeiture offer.

"We wouldn't ask or expect any forfeit," said Athletic Director Polk Robison of Texas Tech. "It is an unfortunate situation and I hope something will be done about it. Georgia just gave us a sound country licking in the game and as far as we are concerned, it stays that way."

Britons Seek Clues In Missing Greyhound Case

LONDON (AP) — This nation of dog lovers yesterday stayed close on the scent of a missing black racing greyhound snatched from his kennel. One man said he saw the dog being driven north in a car.

The dog, Hi Joe, was taken Saturday night. His owners value him at $14,000 and have offered a 10 per cent reward. They fear he may have been taken for ransom, or to be run in disguise on a small track so the thieves can make a killing with their bookies. Hi Joe has won all his last six races.

Hi Joe was reported seen by a truck driver. He was said to have been with two men in the car on a highway, which goes north. Another man said earlier he had seen three men with the dog near an abandoned quarry, but he did not tell the police at once because he had not heard of the theft.

Police traced the license number of the car to Glasgow.

"It seems a very good clue," said trainer Noreen Collin, "because if Hi Joe was going to be used for flapping, Scotland is the most likely place for it."

Flapping is racing slang for running dogs on unlicensed tracks.

Commission Hears Lot-Split Protest

A series of protests against Marin County's lot-split ordinance, mainly from West Marin, was presented to the county planning commission yesterday.

Supervisors passed the ordinance as an emergency measure Oct. 27 and agreed to review it in 90 days.

The ordinance requires improvements such as curbs, gutters and sidewalks when there are divisions of land into two or three parcels.

Attorney Byran McCarthy said he had petitions signed by 281 residents of the Bolinas and Point Reyes Station areas protesting the ordinance. He did not present the petitions.

Attorney Charles F. Pierce, representing West Marin property owners, said the ordinance is "ill conceived" and "in rural areas doesn't add up to common sense."

Douglas Hertz of 110 H Lane, Novato, a West Marin property owner, said the ordinance prohibits a landowner from making any sale without "first going hat in hand to the planning commission."

Daniel F. Deedy, executive secretary of the Marin County Real Estate Board, agreed that splits of parcels one acre or less should be controlled, but said the real estate board was concerned over the large areas covered by the ordinance.

In a letter, Thomas Drew of Inverness said the ordinance places an unnecessary burden on owners of rural property and "would make rural areas into cities."

The commission continued its discussion of the lot-split ordinance until its Jan. 18 meeting.

Three Injured As Cars Collide

Three persons were hurt at 5:30 p.m. Sunday in a two-car collision at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and San Geronimo-Nicasio Road in the San Geronimo Valley.

In good condition at Marin General Hospital today was Mrs. Narcissa Kelley, 49, of Nicasio Road, Nicasio, driver of one car. She suffered fractures of right knee and ankle.

Two passengers in the other car, Mary Bohman, 14, of Woodacre, and Diane Weinrob, 18, of 2 Carson Road, Woodacre, were treated at the hospital for minor hurts.

The California Highway Patrol reported Mrs. Kelley was turning left from Drake Boulevard when her car was hit on the side by an eastbound car driven by Edward Sullivan, 22, of Castle Rock Road, Woodacre.

The lowest variety of the female voice is called contralto.

Utility Lines Plan Takes In Developer

There was no suggestion yesterday before the Marin County Planning Commission that there be a county tax to pay for underground utilities in new subdivisions.

Under a proposed county ordinance the developer would be required to pay the cost of underground utilities, and presumably this cost would be passed on to the home buyer in the subdivision.

It was suggested at the meeting that the cost of underground utilities be spread to everybody. This might be done, it was proposed, by having the utility companies bear the cost and distribute it among all customers.

The Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday, "Underground Lines County Tax Proposed."

Carl S. Brown, representing Associated Home Builders of San Francisco and Marin, proposed that the utilities bear the cost.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. saves money through underground utilities because of decreased labor and maintenance costs, and should put them in, Brown said.

"When you say PG&E, that's the community," replied attorney Bryan McCarthy, indicating that if the company had increased costs there would be increased rates to customers.

The commission continued discussion on a proposed ordinance to Feb. 15.

Palm Springs, Calif., has one swimming pool for every five residents, according to its public relations office.

Woman All Alone In Legislature

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The 1965 California legislature has only one woman member.

Assemblywoman Pauline L. Davis, D-Portola, was first elected to the assembly in 1952 from the sprawling seven-county 2nd district—generally covering extreme Northern California. She has sought and won re-election since.

She succeeded her late husband, Lester, who died while an Assemblyman. She heads the Assembly Fish and Game Committee, probably the only woman chairman of such a committee in the United States.

Flood Aid

The Corte Madera Lions Club has sent $235 to the aid of flood victims of the Eureka area. The money included $100 from the club treasury and the entire profits from the bar from the club'es New Year's Eve party.

Ex-Marinite Calls Aid In Flood 'Miraculous'

An eye-witness to care of homeless residents of flood-stricken Humbolt County by the staff and inmates of San Quentin Prison's Alder Conservation Camp there has called the emergency operation "miraculous."

Mrs. Donald Farling, former Fairfax resident who recently moved to Humbolt County with her husband, a correctional officer at the camp, told of the destruction caused by the raging Eel River and the help given by the prisoners to flood victims.

"The organization with which this whole project is being run is miraculous," she wrote in a letter to fellow members of American Legion Auxiliary 179 of San Anselmo.

"I can never say enough for the courtesy with which the inmates have served, and worked long hours to make sure we had a good Christmas dinner. This work and serving was completely voluntary."

Klamath and Klamath Glen "are a desolate mess of mud, debris, water, logs and the homes which didn't float out with the raging current are covered with all this," she wrote.

We have no lights, telephones, television nor heat (thank God for the fireplaces). The sheriff's deputies and volunteer police are protecting the homes that are still standing to prevent looting."

Compen • tion Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United State is asking the United Arab Republic for about $400,000 to compensate for the burning the John F. Kennedy Library in Cairo by demonstrators Nov. 26, the State Department said yesterday.

Cars Vandalized, Contents Stolen

Thefts of a camera and three flares from a car, plus breaking of several auto antennas, were reported to San Rafael police Monday.

Joseph D. Young of 2 Madrona Street told police at 11:19 a.m. yesterday that a borrowed camera worth $10 and three highway flares were taken from his unlocked station wagon Saturday night.

Francine B. Mendeli of 128 Bretano Way called police at 1:43 p.m. to say that several antennas, including her own, had been snapped on her street.

DAVIDOW FOR SPRING

Fashion writers in New York City for the New York Couture Group's spring style preview saw this tailored costume modeled for the Davidow coat and suit house. The tattersal brown and beige overcoat is worn over a pin striped cutaway suit with the same notched lapels as on the coat. A fedora hat goes with the outfit. (AP Wirephoto)

Spring's Look—Ruffles, Lace All Over The Place

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — For spring, dame fashion's ordering up ruffles and lace all over the place, pleats that are neat, flounces that bounce — and dozens of other changes for milady's wardrobe.

WHAT'S NEW from the nation's trend-setting designers is being featured during the 10 days of fashion which opened Sunday in New York for the nation's fashion press corps.

The double-header event — first part sponsored by the New York Couture Group; second, by American Designer showings — will cover wearables from head hats to toe shoes and including everything in between.

Some of the reports to watch for will center on "way out" items.

SAMPLES: An umbrella that you wear to keep heads free; a hat with a face shield of flowers and peep-holes for the eyes. That's for the woman who wants to go incognito or doesn't have time to do her eyes.

For late day and later togs, watch for the "Cage" shape and plenty of ruffles. The age of the cage dress is marked by dresses veiled in lace or chiffon. Frequently with bared shoulders, they shelter the body something like the cage shelters a bird.

DESIGNERS using ruffles to declare for the flare of elegance, meanwhile, frequently go for treatments. Ben Reig, for example recreated the elegance of old Spain in a dress done in a bright enamel green Spanish lace.

It was styled with a long-fitted torso attached to a double-flounce hemline.

Other trends to watch for, according to the New York Couture group:

—An elongated body look.

JACKETS ARE longer, tunics go to seven-eighth length. And the long look in coats is achieved by low-down belts that often encircle hips or control back fullness.

—MOBILE SKIRTS. Many are pleated. Most are softened, easier. Dirndl and side-wrapped skirts abound.

—COSTUMES. Most dresses have their own jackets or coats. Some are sleeveless. And the many-sided costume often has a reversible coat or jacket.

—HIGH NECKLINE. The turtle neckline continues. Others of the high type feature neat little collars. The scarf neckline also is slated to make fashion news.

—WIDENED SLEEVES. The incoming trend is the bat-wing sleeve. The dolman sleeve also adds to the widened look.

—RUFFLES. Assymetric ruffles ripple down the side of a skirt. In evening gowns, the rippling is from bodice to hem. Many tiered ruffles are advanced for late day. For night drama, there's the bustle ruffle.

Birthday Groups To Attend Plays

Several mothers are honoring their youngsters with theater birthday parties at the 2 p.m. Saturday performance of "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" and "Puppet Circus."

The performances featuring the Lesselli Marionettes will be given by the Junior Theatre of Marin at San Rafael High School auditorium.

Mrs. Peter Meyer of San Rafael will celebrate son Paul's seventh birthday with nine guests. Mrs. Carl Brimmekamp of San Rafael and daughter Suzanne, aged eight, will fete 18 youngsters. Mrs. Alfred Borries of San Anselmo will honor son Tom on his 8th birthday with seven guests at the performance.

Marin Women

James Wilson Takes A Bride

The wedding of Elizabeth Ann Buckelman of Sherwood, O., and James Ross Wilson of Turlock took place at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Turlock recently.

Bishop Vernal M. Horn officiated at the double ring ceremony.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley T. Wilson of Turlock, formerly of Marin. Mr. Wilson is former circulation manager of the San Rafael Independent and former publisher of the Mill Valley Record. He is co-publisher of the Turlock Daily Journal.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Buckelman.

S. Roy Wilson served as his brother's best man and Patricia Ann Wilson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Both James and his brother attended San Rafael and Mill Valley grammar schools and Tamalpais High School.

The couple will reside in New York where James is presently serving with the U.S. Army.

Gifford-Menzies Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Menzies Jr. announced the engagement of their daughter, Katherine, to Clarance Gifford Jr. at a family dinner held Sunday at their home in Mill Valley.

Ted, as the future bridegroom is better known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarance Gifford of Mill Valley.

Both of the young people are graduates of Tamalpais High School.

Kathy is employed at the Muir Woods National Monument. She is the sister of Colin Menzies III, who is employed with the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District.

Ted is serving with the 6595th Aero Space Test Wing at Vandenberg Air Force Base. He is the brother of Mary Jane and Susan Gifford of Mill Valley.

Founders Day Is Planned By Goodwill

"Dream . . . Dream . . . Dream!" is the theme of the Founders Day Tea which leaders of three Marin auxiliaries of Goodwill Industries will hold on Jan. 19, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Raymond Whitney, president of the Goodwill Auxiliary of San Anselmo, will entertain 20 volunteers at 150 Alder Place in San Anselmo.

The Goodwill Auxiliary of Corte Madera will gather at the home of their leader, Mrs. W. J. Butterworth, 20 Palm Ave., Corte Madera and Mrs. Urban Morf will open her Chula Vista home to the Goodwill Auxiliary of San Rafael.

Simultaneously more than 500 Goodwill Auxiliaries in cities spread across the country will join in the celebration. Nationally, the purpose of Founders Day is to plan ways and means to raise money to support the Edgar J. Helms Training Fund.

Founders Day meetings in San Francisco, San Mateo and Marin Counties are designed to disprove the old saying, "There's nothing new under the sun." Each volunteer is asked to "dream up" some entirely new social activity which will introduce the general public, particularly teen-agers and young adults, to the work of Goodwill, or enlist their help in gathering the furniture, clothing, and appliances needed to train handicapped people.

The volunteer who "dreams up" the most unusual suggestion for the auxiliaries will receive a Goodwillie award.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Carol Ann Reynolds of Corte Madera to Delbert M. Smith of Hamilton Air Force Base has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O. Reynolds.

Smith-Reynolds Wedding Is Planned For February

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O. Reynolds of Corte Madera have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann to Delbert M. Smith of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Carol is the sister of Jacque, Claudia and Rebecca Reynolds and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman L. Draper of San Rafael. She was graduated from Redwood High School and attended College of Marin.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Meade A. Smith of Spencer, N.Y., and the brother of Mrs. Francis Lincoln of Waverly, N.Y., Delores, Yvonne, Dennis, Daniel and Deryl Smith. He was graduated from Spencer High School and is an airman, first class at Hamilton.

A February wedding at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Greenbrae is planned.

New Magnification

Young students and hobbyists can now zero in on the unknown with a low-cost precision microscope that quickly zooms to the desired magnification. One model of the new microscope produces from 25 to 100 times magnification, the other from 50 to 200.

Suede With Wool

The Spanish fashion industry wants Joe College to switch out of the all-wool sweater and into one made of wool and suede. What's suggested: a turtle-necked pullover with a suede front. The turtle-neck zips up to any height—within limits of the sweater, of course.

Instant Formula Feeds Baby

CHICAGO (UPI) — Early this morning in the United States, more than four million babies woke up crying to be fed. Approximately one-third of them, the ones four-months-old or younger, depended on some infant formula product for their main source of nourishment.

Here's how the job was done, according to a survey:

—Ten per cent of American mothers breast fed their babies, although many mothers also gave the infants supplemental formula feedings.

—Approximately 21 per cent of the babies got evaporated milk with carbohydrate modifiers added.

—Forty-seven per cent were fed with prepared infant formulas. Five years ago this figure was 24 per cent.

Although the U. S. birth rate has been in a temporary decline during the past 26 months, births for 1975 are estimated at 5.2 million, compared to 4.3 million in 1960.

About three babies have been born since you started reading this article, since a new birth is recorded in the U. S. every 7½ seconds.

Feeding babies is big business. By the end of this year, American babies will have worked their way through an estimated 79 million gallons of formula.

Even with the present decline in the birth rate, the number of babies to be fed each year has increased 9 per cent since 1952. An even greater change has taken place in infant feeding habits.

In 1952, almost two-thirds of the babies were fed formula with carbohydrate modifiers. Today only about 21 per cent get this type.

For Firmness

Sleepers who like a firm but not hard bed can insert a new lattice-like frame, made of woven steel, between a box spring and mattress in lieu of the conventional rigid bed board. The new unit is sealed within a plastic cover which can be sponged off with soap or detergent suds at housecleaning time.

Linda Susan Roos To Wed Nick Krisa Jr.

LINDA ROOS

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Roos of Novato have announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda Susan Roos to Nick Kriska Jr. of Little Falls, N.J.

Linda, a graduate of Novato High School and a senior at Chico State College majoring in biology, attended Montclair State College in New Jersey for one year as an exchange student from Chico State. She is the sister of Julie Roos, also of Novato.

Nick is a senior at Bloomfield College, Bloomfield, N.J. and will be graduated in June with a bachelor's degree in mathematics. He also attended Fairleigh Dickenson University.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Krisa Sr. of Little Falls, N.J.

The wedding is planned June 26 at Grace Lutheran Church in Novato.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

I suppose almost every mother worries about thumbsucking at one time or another. But most experts agree that if not overdone, it's perfectly normal, rarely harmful. Things that may cut down excessive thumbsucking:

If a young baby sucks his thumb lustily, it could be that he needs more time at breast or bottle.

Teethers who suck their thumbs to soothe tender gums will get biting satisfaction from Gerber Teething Biscuits.

Toddlers can often be distracted from thumbsucking with 2-way games or do-something toys.

Memo from Dan Gerber. "One of our regular research projects is to determine which grains will make the best possible cereal. Take the selection of rice grains. Gerber researchers work closely with millers and the U. S. Department of Agriculture to select the correct varieties. Of 32 major varieties, only 6 are used. These are chosen for superior quality, good mixing and cooking characteristics... and because they meet nutrition standards set down by our experts. "Nutrition research is done on a continuing basis. When you buy Gerber, you're sure of your money's worth in nourishment."

•

Regulating idea. When your baby is ready to go on a 3-meals-a-day schedule, you'll find a change of scene or a bit of attention will help him wait out a half hour or so to meet his new schedule. Babies are adaptable and will usually settle for attention if the wait isn't too long.

•

Growing idea. Your baby gains more in height and weight the first year than the next two put together. That's why it's important to see that he gets plenty of protein foods... the great "helping hands" of growth. Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are high in precious protein, extra-low in fat and easy as can be to digest. Made from special cuts, selected by Armour, they're processed by an exclusive method which insures the wonderfully smooth, moist texture these quality meats are famous for. Americans Are Generous —Sometimes To A Fault

Americans are noted for generosity —the spirit of giving to charity.

During this Christmas season, they may have racked up another record in the millions of dollars donated to charity.

At the same time, they may have hit another record in gullibility. For there are questionable groups, although only a small percentage, who play on the traditional generosity of Americans, especially during the holiday season.

A report out of New York estimates that questionable groups get almost three per cent, or 300 million dollars a year, and much more is wasted by well-meaning but inefficient drives.

The chief of the Charity Frauds Bureau in New York said that wastefulness was the biggest problem. He said "unintentional fraud" comes from excessive operating expenses and negligent charity officials.

Because so many contributions are anonymous, and donors give from the heart with no thought of receipt or even acknowledgment, philanthropy is one of the freest of America's big industries.

The charity frauds official gave this admonition: It's best to give locally where you know the solicitor as a friend or neighbor. If in doubt, make an inquiry, or don't give. Each of us gives a certain amount. There is no sense in wasting it, making someone else rich.

The vast majority of charity drives are by reputable organizations like United Crusade or for campaigns against various diseases and ailments.

But in a small minority of cases, questionable solicitors take advantage of the traditional American spirit of giving to "charity" with no questions asked.

For example, a successful builder back East was named to head a charity raffle and then printed extra tickets for his own profit.

Sometimes it may be difficult to distinguish between legitimate and dubious philanthropies. A call to a Better Business Bureau or chambers of commerce or community chest officials could help clarify the situation. A law enforcement agency may also be able to provide some information.

Nationally, one of the watchdog agencies is the 46-year-old National Information Bureau at 205 East 42nd Street, N.Y., which prepares analyses of more than 500 charities.

So as not to over-emphasize the fraudulent aspects of charity, it should be stressed that the vast majority of the charity drives are worthwhile. It is through continuation of private giving that much of America's health, happiness and improved living will be fostered.

But for the protection of the very legitimate charities that deserve generous giving by the public, it might be well for each individual giver to exercise a little judgment instead of merely running to the door and handing out dollar bills to every stranger who comes to the door.

SEAT BELTS CAN BE LIFE-SAVERS

Motorists using seat belts stand twice as good a chance of avoiding injury in traffic accidents as those who don't, according to a recent survey in New Jersey. In a study of 1047 accidents over a 9 month period, the statistics report that:

There was one injury for every 2.47 accidents in which seat belts were in use.

There was one injury for every 1.26 accidents in which seat belts were not in use.

The need for prudent and reasonable precautions whether in driving a car, bringing up children or choosing a career, is as obvious a truth as it is a neglected one.

Neglect of the means readily at hand to safeguard our own best interests and those of others often leads to serious consequences.

The Lord who has endowed us with intelligence expects us to use it to the best of our ability. Without becoming fearful or over-solicitous, take reasonable steps to observe the rules of common sense.

"What will a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Matthew 16:26)

Make me careful, O Heavenly Father, to do what is rightfully expected of me.

State Manufacturers Serve Notice Against Tax Boosts

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The perennial battle between business and labor over unemployment insurance payments is shaping up again as the 1965 session of the Legislature is session of the Legislature opened this week in Sacramento.

With Gov. Edmund G. Brown pledged to give away more of the state's "happy-time" money, industry has called attention to the fact that this is not possible without some increases in taxes to bolster the funds which dispense largesse for votes.

THE GOVERNOR wants increases in unemployment compensation, disability insurance and workmen's compensation. He is willing to increase taxes to make additional benefits possible.

However, the California Manufacturers Assn., which represents most of the large business concerns of the state, as well as hundreds of medium-sized and smaller concerns, has served notice through its executive vice president and legislative representation, Tom Knight, that it will oppose excessive increase.

Members of the association represent the largest payrolls in California and pay the highest amount of taxes to the various social programs.

Knight said the association has no desire to be obstructive in opposing higher benefits for employees, but declared it must be remembered there is a limit to which payroll taxes can be carried without becoming confiscatory.

"Members of the association," Knight declared, "feel the point of confiscation is nearing rapidly, if not already reached as far as social insurance is concerned.

"Any additional taxes on employers imposed by the State Legislature at the request of a liberal administration approach the confiscatory level, and could result only in price increases to consumers of the state."

The unemployment fund is being lowered at the present rate of insurance payments. The disability fund, supported by worker contributions, is nearing bankruptcy. So there is no opportunity of dispensing more money unless taxes are increased.

Decreases in manufacturing employment are not contributing to a healthy business climate, yet the administration is considering a program that will mean more expenditure on the part of business instead of less.

How Will LBJ Make Use Of His Tremendous Mandate?

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson is going to be a more activist president than his own current publicity suggests.

Just because Mr. Johnson is determined to avoid the mistake FDR made after his 1936 landslide—the mistake of demanding too much from Congress—doesn't mean that the president is planning to move so slowly you might think he isn't moving at all.

RIGHT NOW, LBJ is cultivating the impression that he is not going to hurl his massive election margin at Capitol Hill and bid Congress to rustle him up a big-spending legislative program but quick.

Fair enough. Sound position, sound publicity, sound strategy. A president does not use political pressure on Congress if he doesn't have to; a president does not threaten Congress with political pressure; he just uses it when the time comes.

What Mr. Johnson is saying is that he is no public threatener. Since he won so overwhelmingly — including 3-to-1 Democratic majorities in both House and Senate—there were inevitably some who feared that the president might be getting ready to try to turn Congress into a doormat.

THUS IT WAS WELL for him to make it clear that he has no such intention. Any such intention would be totally out of character.

But this does not mean that Mr. Johnson will throw away the tremendous political power potential he has earned by virtue of his 17-million-vote plurality.

He has always resisted political labels. He is certainly no do-everything-now liberal; he is no do-nothing political conservative. Caution may be his hallmark. But he is no cautious inactivist. He is a cautious activist, and I am sure that Congress and the country will find him that way when the new session gets down to work in January.

A POLITICAL FRIEND of the president who has worked with him for a long time gives this private appraisal of the way he functions: "Lyndon knows there is no adequate public understanding of the really fundamental problems. So he tries to push them himself. He aims to develop a kind of onrushing consensus; then he will run around ahead of it so he can lead it or have it push him. He will start from scratch on an issue and end with 80 per cent of the public behind him. Lyndon is a very sophisticated man."

There is a nearly opposite estimate. It comes from a knowledgeable Democrat. He puts it this way: "The one word Lyndon Johnson learned in 24 years on Capitol Hill is 'do-able.' He tries only the 'do-able.'"

I SUGGEST that these apparently divergent appraisals of Mr. Johnson are of one piece, that they fit together.

Will the president try only the "do-able" or will he create the conditions to make the less do-able possible?

Johnson works it this way: his method is to ask Congress to begin the do-able on a relatively modest scale and then to use the beginning to build the public and congressional consensus behind enlarging his program.

This is exactly the way he successfully launched the "war on poverty" program. He began it last year with a modest, practicable and acceptable start. He is using the beginning to enlarge the consensus behind his program which this year he hopes to double.

This is why we will, I am convinced, soon find President Johnson moving ahead as a cautious activist—with the accent equally strong on both.

BENNETT CERF

THE COURSE OF true love didn't go smoothly in Houston, Texas, recently. A handsome, fullback-type lad got engaged to a curvaceous lass at a Gulf resort, after both of them assured the other they were millionaires. Back in Houston, they seemed to grow suspicious simultaneously, and sought a private eye to check on their prospective mates actual financial status. By wild chance they picked the same private eye! Furthermore, he discovered that both of them were lying in their teeth: neither had a cent!

What happened? By the time the persevering detective had typed up his reports, his two clients had gotten tired of waiting—and eloped! Sighs the private eye, "Heaven knows where their next meal is coming from!"

Cookie Boxes Are Available, She Says

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I should like to answer two letters in last night's letters-to-the-editor column (Monday, Dec. 28). The first concerns bakeries. I found Meiers bakery in Mill Valley most co-operative about selling cake boxes. They were ordered a few days ahead of when I needed them, so Mrs. Meier was sure she was covered for her self.

The second concerns the blankets the American Friends Service Committee sends to Algeria. You may send 2¼ books of Blue Chip Stamps to the AFSC warehouse, 23rd and Arch Streets, Philadelphia 3, Penn. for each blanket instead of cash.

Freedom Party Drive Held Destructive

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The two daily newspaper to which we subscribe both printed letter today (January 2) written by two Marin County citizens who urged the public to support the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party in its current effort to prevent Mississippi's legislators from being seated in Congress.

I disagree with these two men whose battle cry is "Support the Constitution!" as they lead a charge to destroy it....

Mississippi's legislators were elected according to the laws of that state, and these laws have not yet been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court....

What we will have if our authorities retreat before such radical groups as the MFDP, the FSM, and the Ad Hoc Committee, is complete chaos. Our American system provides lawful methods to correct injustice....

I appeal to all citizens who believe in the American system of government to protect it by supporting due process of law and opposing those groups that would topple order and freedom for chaos and the rule of force.

France Soon To Add Its Share To U.N. Vote-Dues Dilemma

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 115-member United Nations is doing business by pantomime. It's snarled in back dues, voting rights and face-saving.

THE BASIC question: Does the Soviet Union have a right to vote in the General Assembly until it pays its share of the U. N. peace-keeping costs?

The roots of the trouble go back 14 years to 1950, when the North Korean Communists invaded South Korea.

The 11-member Security Council went into session. Five of these members are permanent: the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France, Nationalist China, each with veto power. Just then, by a freak, the Soviet Union was boycotting the group.

The council promptly voted to fight the invasion with U. N. forces. The Soviet Union returned, too late to veto, and tried to be a bottleneck.

Then the United States thought it time to shift some of this absolute power away from the council.

IT PROPOSED that the General Assembly, made up of all the U. N. members and with no one holding a veto, should be able to take action against an aggressor.

The vote was 52 to 5. The five dissenters were the Soviet Union and the Soviet bloc.

In 1956 the General Assembly voted to send a U. N. peace-keeping force into the Middle East to prevent trouble between Arabs and Israelis. In 1960 it sent a peace-keeping force into the Congo.

The Soviet Union opposed both moves. France opposed the Congo action. But sustaining a U. N. armed force costs millions. The Soviet Union and France fell behind in their share.

THE STORY GETS a little technical now because Article 19 of the U. N. Charter says: If a member falls behind for two years in what it owes toward U. N. expenses, it shall have no vote in the assembly.

By Dec. 1, the Soviet Union was behind 52 million dollars—altogether 15 nations were behind — and so was France, which paid its share of Middle East costs but not those for the Congo.

The United States insisted, with approval by Congress, that the Soviet Union should be made to pay its dues or be prevented from voting.

The International Court of Justice two years ago upheld Article 19.

The Soviet Union argued the U. N. operations in the Middle East and the Congo were both illegal. It says only the Security Council, where it has a veto, and not the assembly has authority to vote funds for peace-keeping.

Too much of a showdown between the United States and the Soviet Union could wreck the world organization.

So, when the United Nations opened Dec. 1, there was a kind of general tippy-toeing in a search for a solution and this was the embarrassing part of it.

The American-Russian showdown, already delayed a month, will almost certainly now be delayed until some time in January.

But by then France will have become two years delinquent on its share of the costs for keeping the Congo peace. That's a brand new problem.

In addition to the question of the voting right of a country that doesn't pay its share of U. N. costs, there's this unsettled one, too: Should the assembly or the council have the say over sending troops anywhere to keep the peace?

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Reds Await Highway Work For Take-Over

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The strange on-again, off-again war in Laos is becoming even more incomprehensible with the growing deterioration of the political-military situation in bordering South Viet Nam.

While U. S. military strategists are preparing to bomb the "Ho Chi Minh" roads and trails in Laos, State Department authorities are rushing work on a hard-surfaced highway where the pro-Soviet Pathet Lao are waiting only for completion before taking over.

THE CONTROVERSIAL "Nam Cadinh-Nam Hin Boun" project, at a cost of 8.4 million dollars to U. S. taxpayers, is being constructed to link northern and southern Laos and serve as the country's gateway to neighboring Thailand.

The all-weather road is to be completed by October, 1965.

According to latest intelligence warnings from Vientiane, the Pathet Lao overran the road 60 miles north of Thakkek, the government's stronghold in the province of Khannouane, several weeks ago, but strangely withdrew so construction of the highway could continue.

EXCEPT FOR this military intrusion, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao have been content to keep a close watch on the progress of the 300-kilometer highway.

Instead of taking the road with their overwhelming military force, the Pathet Lao have moved troops into strategic positions on both sides of the highway, giving them full command of the high ground from Vientiane, Laotian capital in the north, to the Mekong River in the south.

In a "for-their-eyes-only" report to his Pentagon superiors, one U. S. military intelligence officer in Laos described the "intentions" of the Pathet Lao maneuvers as follows:

"PRISONERS AND captured documents clearly indicate that Pathet Lao plan to use the Nam Cadinh-Nam Hin Boun road themselves, as soon as completed.

"Despite overwhelming military forces encircling the road, the Pathet Lao are content to let us finish it for them before taking it over. When the road passes to their control, the Pathet Lao will have a highway that can be used for the invasion of Thailand by North Vietnamese troops."

While this ominous possibility already has set off alarm bells among the joint chiefs of staff and U. S. military advisers in Thailand, State Department policymakers headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk are showing no concern.

OVERRULING ALL JCS proposals to protect the U. S.-financed highway, Rusk is directing that the project be finished regardless of who finally ends up in control of this strategic road.

They contend the highway is an "economic project" and in line with over-all U. S. policy of providing support for a coalition Laotian government that includes Communists as well as neutralists and pro-Western officials.

In backstage arguments for continuance of the road, Rusk flatly claimed there was no conflict between their position on the highway project and support for bombing other Communist-held roads.

IN AN AGREEMENT reached before Christmas, the Laotian government privately consented to permit U. S. bombing strikes against the Ho Chi Minh roads over which the North Vietnamese are transporting Soviet-made arms to the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Soothsaying Scribbler Foresees Strange Things In Year Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — The world will be a buzzing hive throughout 1965 —and you'll have to watch your step to keep from being stung.

THIS IS REVEALED in our annual uncopyright fuzzy forecast of the future.

The crystal ball is even more clouded than usual, but a peek into its mystic depths discloses that during the next 12 months these things probably will happen:

President Johnson will indignantly deny an accusation from Peking that America plans to solve its poverty problem by shooting all its poor people to the moon.

WEDDING BELLS will ring in the White House.

Former Premier Khrushchev of the Soviet Union will solve the Soviet government's biggest unemployment problem by accepting a post as public relations adviser to President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Germany, which made less out of war than anybody, will continue to make more out of peace than anybody. Japan will announce plans to build the world's first all-plastic aircraft carrier.

Nobody will swim the English Channel in either direction during January, February or March. In June, however, an Egyptian swimming east will collide in midchannel with a girl factory worker from Manchester swimming west. They will wed in July — underwater.

A scandal will break out in Merrie Olde Englande when one of Her Majesty's ministers is caught cheating at darts in a local pub. Calm will be restored after a televised appeal by Sir Winston Churchill for the nation to stand steady.

DON'T LOOK for much change in Vietnam. The only noteworthy improvement will occur about the middle of the year when, after a bloodless revolt led by three students and an unfrocked Buddhist, a new government will be installed headed by a fellow whose name can be pronounced in English.

On the domestic front, keep an eye open for these possibilities:

J. Edgar Hoover will be quietly offered a post as quarterback of the New York Giants football team — because of his reputation of never having been thrown for a loss.

A sensational new dance, known as "the Queep," will sweep society circles. This is how it will work: Two partners will lie down on opposite sides of the room and "queep" toward each other like serpents, without the aid of hands or feet. While some ministers will denounce the dance as degrading if not immoral, a prominent psychiatrist will defend it on the grounds that it is a harmless way of getting rid of hidden aggressions.

A MOVEMENT led by Richard M. Nixon will seek to find out if America can survive under a two-party system. Former President Harry S. Truman will denounce it as totally unnecessary.

Late in the year an invisible man from Mars will land in the outskirts of Washington, D.C., to check into the possibilities of using earth as a vacation resort for Martians. After three days he will return to Mars and report to his superiors: "It's no place for us."

BUT, ALL IN ALL, 1965 will be a good time to be alive. Just lay in a good stock of aspirin.

Gracious Spanish Lights Now A Novato Christmas Tradition

THOSE OF YOU who missed the luminarios in Novato on Christmas Eve and Christmas Night, ought to put a note on your calendar for next year to be sure to see them.

People from the big cities in the East who have seen Christmas decorations of all descriptions all around the country, stated that the luminarios were the most beautiful Christmas decorations they had ever seen.

One could drive for blocks through Novato north of Stone Drive, west of South Novato Boulevard and see these lights every three feet all along the sidewalks. It is something that must be seen to be appreciated. The custom is spreading to other areas in the city. Perhaps in a few years, Novato will have the custom so firmly entrenched that it will be the showplace of northern California on those two nights.

Until you have seen it, you have no idea of the effect of these little lights up and down the streets.

WHEN, IF EVER, the full story of this year's flood and storm disaster is written, there will be quite a few Marin County people in it.

Marin County escaped the floods. We were not much more than inconvenienced by the storms. However, where the real disaster hit, there were people from Marin County.

Hamilton Air Force Base reservists played a very important role in the airlifts of food, clothing, bedding and necessary materiel to the stricken people up north.

These men were not regulars who could be called on as part of their duty, but were civilians who belong to the reserves. They took time from their regular jobs to perform their missions of mercy.

As the newspapers have told, it was not all gravy. The accidents and death of the helicopter crews and others showed that it was a mission filled with danger in the bad weather.

THESE PEOPLE should be highly commended for their work in behalf of their fellow men in need. The American pioneer spirit of helping a neighbor in distress, is far from dead. That can be attested to time and time again in the past few weeks.

Others who could not actually get into the disaster areas also helped, including Mrs. Hugh Drowns of Novato, who opened her garage for a collection depot. Many truck loads of clothing were collected for flood victims. Although the Novato Fire Department later took over as a collection agent, Mrs. Drowns deserves credit for spearheading the effort.

When the Novato City Administrator J. Julien Baget presented plans for a fifth anniversary celebration to the city council last Tuesday night, it quickly authorized him to go ahead and make the plans.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow kidded him that he could also arrange for dancing girls and other entertainment too. If the Mayor hadn't been kidding, it might turn out to be quite a celebration on Jan. 20.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Inverness wanted a full-time constable to crack down on increasing vandalism, according to Emil Huguenin, president of the Inverness Improvement Assn.

Supervisor James Kehoe of Inverness took over as chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, on request of outgoing Chairman William D. Fusselman. William A. Gnoss of Novato was seated in place of retiring William Q. Wright Jr.

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 5, the fifth day of 1965 with 360 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1925, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross of Wyoming was sworn in as the first woman governor in U.S. history.

In 1949, an Israeli armored column thrust 35 miles into Egyptian territory, capturing and wrecking three airports.

In 1959, West Germany supported previous British, French and American rejections of a Soviet proposal to make West Berlin a free city.

In 1964, Pope Paul VI and Greek Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras met in Jerusalem to discuss Christian unity.

A thought for the day—U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Adlai Stevensen said: "A wise man does not try to hurry history."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Hold Up On First Trick Even With Two Winners In Game

It sometimes pays to refuse the first trick even when you have two sure tricks in the suit.

You still have to wait until one of the opponents has no card left in the dangerous suit.

Opening lead — ♡ 10

West leads the ten of hearts, and this rides around to the South hand — or does it? If you win the first trick with the jack or queen of hearts you will not make your contract of three no-trump.

TRY IT

Try it and see. You win the first heart trick and lead the ten of diamonds for a finesse, losing to the queen.

Back comes a heart, and West can cover your play, driving out dummy's ace and setting up the rest of his long suit.

The next time you lead diamonds, West takes the ace of diamonds and the rest of his hearts, defeating the contract.

HOLD UP

Now try playing a low heart at the first trick. You are still sure to win two hearts because you can later take a finesse through West's king.

West's best chance is to continue with the hearts, and this time you win in your hand with the jack.

You lead the 10 of diamonds, losing to the queen.

TOO CLEVER

The difference is that East is now unable to return a heart. His best chance is to return a club, but you are much too clever to finesse. You step up with the ace of clubs and lead diamonds until West takes his ace.

West cannot defeat you because you still have the ace of hearts in dummy.

No matter how he plays, you can surely win three spades, two hearts, three diamonds, and at least one club.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ J 8
♥ K 10 9 8 2
♦ A 6 5
♣ K 6 5

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

This hand is very nearly worth an opening bid, and you might bid if the jack were in one of the other suits, accompanying an ace or a king.

San Rafael Poll Hours Extended

Polls will be open until 8 p.m. for San Rafael's city election on April 12.

Thec ity council agreed to this last night on request of the San Rafael city schools.

The board of education will ask approval of an increase in San Rafael Elementary School District's operating tax rate limit from $1.75 to $2.25 per $100 assessed valuation. (Over-ride taxes and bond payments are additional, totaling 23½ cents this year.) Charles L. Condrotte, business manager of the city schools, asked that polls be kept open an hour beyond the usual 7 p.m. closing time to accommodate late commuters.

Councilman Charles W. Aby moved this be done, and it was voted unanimously.

Besides the school tax issue, the voters April 12 will decide on a mayor, two councilmen, and two board of education members. Terms expiring are those of Mayor John F. McInnis, Councilmen Louis H. Baar and Harry A. Barbier, and board of education members John M. Bagshaw and Bella H. Aaron.

San Rafael High School and Elementary School Districts are set up under the city charter and hold their election (for a single board of education governing both districts) with the city election. Other school districts in Marin County will elect trustees eight days later, on April 20.

Bonsai Discussion

Roy Wendelken of Novato will discuss the history and significance of the bonsai and demonstrate how to plant one of the miniature trees at a meeting of the Redwood Shade Garden Club at 8 p.m. Friday in Whittaker Hall, St. Stephen's Parish, Belvedere.

Once the beaver has built his lodges for the winter, he then stores large quantities of food underwater.

San Rafael, Richmond Try For Bridge Toll Reduction

The cities of San Rafael and Richmond will join in an effort to get tolls reduced on the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

The San Rafael City Council last night recieved a letter from Mayor George D. Carroll of Richmond saying his city council had directed its staff to make an intensive study of the bridge tolls with the intent of asking the state for a reduction. He asked that San Rafael join in the study.

San Rafael's councilmen enthusiastically accepted. Mayor John F. McInnis instructed City Mgr. Dan E. Anderson to assist Richmond in preparing its facts and presenting them to the state.

"I am sure that with a concerted collective effort we will be successful," wrote Mayor Carroll.

Toll on the bridge is now 75 cents each way.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Changes In Weight Often Mean Trouble And Should Be Checked

VAN DELLEN

Has your weight changed during the last year? If so, how much, and why? Many physicians ask these questions when examining a patient because the answers offer important health clues if there has been a gain or loss. Reduction may stem from dieting but is likely to be serious when it comes from improper digestion or absorption or from abnormalities in metabolism.

A drop in poundage may be the earliest sign of a malignancy. Emaciation is accelerated because the cancer behaves like a parasite and uses some of the absorbed food for its own growth. The situation is worse when the gastrointestinal tract is involved. Appetite wanes, digestion is disturbed, or diarrhea occurs.

OVERACTIVITY of the thyroid gland leads to a progressive decrease in weight, despite a ravenous appetite. Many of these individuals are nervous and shaky and complain of palpitation. Their metabolism is high and more of the consumed food is used up as energy.

Weight loss also is a symptom of diabetes, often associated with increased appetite and thirst. A lazy adrenal gland (adrenocoritcal insufficiency) causes diminished appetite, nausea, and vomiting, along with wasting of the flesh. These symptoms often come in attacks(crises) precipitated by an acute infection, injury, or surgery.

THE ALCOHOLIC often drops 10 to 30 pounds when he drinks more than he eats and develops cirrhosis of the liver. Weight diminishes during infections, especially when there is fever. Victims of rheumatoid arthritis are prone to be thin and the same can be said of those with heart failure.

The malabsorption syndrome is a newcomer by name only. It includes a variety of older diseases in which weight loss is associated with no appetite, abdominal distension, muscular wasting, and abnormal stools. These people do not absorb the nutrients in food for a number of reasons.

Weight gain usually comes from eating too much. But a sudden increase may be caused by waterlogged tissues resulting from heart, kidney, or liver disease.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

DORMANT VIRUSES

H. R. writes: Is it true that cold germs lie dormant in our system and gain control when our resistance drops?

REPLY

This is possible. We do not know where the respiratory organisms and viruses go during periods when these infections are not prevalent. In most instances, colds are caught from someone else.

KELOIDS RECUR

P. F. L. writes: Would a skin graft be advisable for a keloid scar?

REPLY

No, because new incisions would be required, meaning that another scar could form. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on keloids.

SPLIT PALATE AND LIP

A. S. C. writes: What is the difference between a cleft palate and a harelip?

REPLY

These defects usually co-exist. Harelip is the external manifestation of this congenital defect in which a crevice runs through the hard palate (cleft palate) in the roof of the mouth to the lip in front.

MORNING PILL

C. P. writes: Is it better to take a high blood pressure pill in the morning or the afternoon?

REPLY

In the morning, especially if it contains a diuretic. Furthermore, should you forget to take the pill in the morning, you have the rest of the day to remember to do so.

MASTOIDITIS

P. R. writes: How is an infected mastoid treated?

REPLY

An antibiotic is given and an opening is made into the mastoid cells (behind the ear) to allow the discharge to escape. This disorder is fading from the scene.

Fireproof Wood Drawing Interest

By ELIEZER WHARTMAN
Advance News Service

JERUSALEM, ISRAEL—A process for making wood fireproof—said to be so effective that not even the heat of a furnance can overcome it—is stirring interest here and abroad.

If it works as well as its developers says, it ultimately could bring about great savings in and property. More immediately, it could expand the market for a developing new product, commercially treated wood.

Dr. Menachem Levin of the Israeli government's Fiber Research Institute says it will work. He built fires under two identical model houses of beaverboard and stood back to watch. The model treated with his potassium bromine solution was unaffected; the untreated model collapsed and was burned to a crisp.

The American Wood Preservers Institute in Washington, D.C., took note and immediately began to ask questions, mostly technical. If other woods stood up as well as the treated beaverboard, then here was something with promise. If the process costs as little as Dr. Levin claims, then here was "something that could be economically significant."

Dr. Levin says his process works on plywood, masonite, beaverboard, cardboard, rope, even newspaper. He's tried it. And he says it costs about $25 to treat one ton of timber products. Present methods cost about $40.

Levin, a 46-year-old scientist who in his younger days was a leader of the Stern Gang which terrorized British police, says his method is different because it alters the chemical structure of wood. Technically, it introduces bromine into the lignine molecules which envelop cellulose fibers. The bromine-treated lignine prevents combustion, permanently, without changing the wood's appearance.

It prevents rotting, too.

"Methods of protecting wood from fire have changed little since the days of ancient Egypt," Levin said after his successful experiments. "Timber is still soaked in various saline solutions. But the salt absorbed adds 25 per cent to the weight of the timber. Since there is no chemical reaction with the wood, these salts are easily washed out by rain or diluted by dampness."

The potassium bromine method, he said, adds about 4 per cent to the weight of timber. And it produces a chemical change.

The Wood Preservers Institute has asked for more technical information and would like to see results of experiments based on United States testing standards. If successful in the U. S., the Levin method could boost use of treated woods, which now comprise less than 1 per cent of the lumber market. Wood could return as a competitor against steel studding, metal ceiling materials, and in other structural uses where wood has lost ground to other materials.

Levin and his staff have been working on the potassium bromine process for four years. Their research was stimulated by the fact that Israel possesses vast amounts of bromide in the Dead Sea. Their process has been registered for patents in the United States and other countries.

Levin has registered scores of patents for other chemical processes, including one for moth-proofing wool without shrinkage.

A native of Poland, he settled in Israel in 1937, was graduated from Hebrew University, and established the Institute for Fibers and Forest Products Research in 1953. He was assisted in his wood-treatment experiments by Drs. Abraham Lengyel and Bernard Toker.

This Will Give You Some Idea Of What Social Scientists Doing

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — A social scientist has just discovered what happens to Open-minded and Close-minded people.

The Open-minded take jobs in the social service trades and professions. The Close-minded become bosses.

C. Gratton Kemp, an Ohio State University researcher, arrived at this open and shut conclusion from a follow-up study of 100 students. At graduation six years ago, even though the group was evenly divided in mental outlook, they had the same order of values.

These ranked as religious, social, political, economic, theoretical and aesthetic.

Today, the 50 Open-minded types place greater value on the theoretical and aesthetic facets of life and less on the political and economic. While the Closed-minded now emphasize the political and economic at the expense of the theoretical, social and aesthetic.

When they got out of college, both groups expressed interest in social service occupations. The Open-minded stayed in this type of work, but those with closed minds switched to managerial and executive jobs.

The researcher finds a message in his study.

"Such findings suggest that the Closed-minded gravitate toward those jobs which provide more security and power," he says openly. "This is a disturbing situation since positions of great influence may be held by those who are more threatened, less able to tolerate ambiguity and more inclined to accept authority somewhat uncritically."

You may or may not agree with Kemp, but it shows what some social scientists are up to these days. They appear to be outdoing one another in off-beat studies of the human animal. Some of the results of their investigations may even make one wonder why they bothered.

Take the recent survey of a Sacramento State College professor who spent several weeks questioning 300 inmates of various California prisons. He made what may go down as one of the least-surprising discoveries of the decade: Criminals don't like policemen or lawyers who let them go to jail.

Actually, he phrased it a little differently.

"Offenders who have been arrested, tried, convicted, and sentenced to prison do not like policemen, public defenders, district attorneys, and judges — in that order — though they favor parole officers slightly and really like postmen and firemen."

The professor said he obtained this intelligence in an effort to see what can be done about getting more people to apply for jobs as policemen.

His conclusion is that the attitudes of the criminals "strongly implies a need for corrective action within the structure of the arrest-to-release occupations charged with the administration of justice."

What that entails, he didn't say. Maybe nicer policemen.

One of the happier aspects of being a sociologist is that no form of behavior is beyond your ken. We devine this from a report in a journal, Social Problems, by a sociologist who was able to draw "on his experience of 20 years in and around billiard parlors" to make a study of poolroom hustling.

The researcher, who may or may not have seen a movie of the same name, says a hustler isn't necessarily a champion player but a "species of con man who makes a living by betting on the outcome of his games."

Our scientific informant follows this brilliant description with the hustler's modus operandi. It's all a matter of deception, he says.

The hustler hides his skill by "stalling" (missing an occasional shot); "lemoning" (pretending it is luck when he wins), and "dumping" (deliberately losing a game to cheat spectator bettors).

From questioning hustlers, though, the researcher did come up with a really useful piece of information for anyone who takes on a stranger in a poolhall.

There are only 400 hustlers, he reports, in the whole country.

That may be hard to believe. But that's social science for you.

Since 1961, a team of highly organized treasure hunters has recovered more than a million dollars in gold and silver from the rotted remains of a Spanish fleet wrecked off Florida in a 1715 hurricane.

Underground Plan Due Novato Unit

The Novato City Council will hear a report on the feasibility of underground utilities when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the community house.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget expects this report to take most of the meeting.

The council will also consider two appointments to the parks and recreation commission and one to the planning commission.

Other items may be added to the agenda prior to the meeting, Baget said.

Master Plan Talk

Walter Horchler, Marin County recreation planner and author of the county's master plan for parks and recreation and open space, will discuss the plan at a meeting of the Marin Conservation Council at 8 p.m. Jan. 13 at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, Point San Quentin.

Cobblestones reputedly laid by Hessian prisoners of war during the Revolution still pave Prince Street in Alexandria, Va.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington turns out some $9 billion in currency each year.

Ord Training Is Postponed

SALINAS (AP) — Resumption of basic training at the Army's big Fort Ord, has been delayed at least until April 1.

That word came yesterday from Lt. Col. Alfred Frazin, public information officer at the post.

Basic training was discontinued last fall because of an outbreak of spinal meningitis. There were 98 cases and 15 deaths at the fort.

It had been announced earlier training probably would be resumed by Feb. 1.

Officers feel that some time around mid-February there will be an announcement of Fort Ord's future.

Grand Avenue Work Awarded By State

Contract for extending Grand Avenue across San Rafael Creek to Francisco Boulevard was awarded to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael yesterday by California Department of Public Works in Sacramento, on a bid of $483,624.

The project for the Division of Highways includes grading and paving Second Street between the extended Grand Avenue and Francisco, and realigning the Irwin Street off-ramp from Highway 101. It is the first project for realigning and widening the highway through San Rafael.

Meeting Canceled

Last night's meeting of the San Anselmo Library Board was canceled because of a lack of a quorum, Valerie M. Ansel, chairman, said today. The next meeting has been set tentatively for 7:30 p.m. Jan. 11 at the library.

New Flag To Wave Over Indian Pueblo

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A 50-star flag will wave in the future over Taos Indian Pueblo, thanks to Gov. Jack M. Campbell.

The governor made a personal presentation of two 50-star United States flags to Taos Pueblo officials, after learning that Taos did not have a 50-star flag.

Moscow Approves Of NBC-TV Again

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — In early 1963, two NBC-TV documentaries offended the Soviet Union, which ordered the closing of the network's Moscow news bureau.

The programs, presented in the United States, were entitled "The Death of Stalin" and "The Rise of Khrushchev," and dealt with circumstances surrounding both of these events.

Now, almost two years later, NBC reports that the Soviet government has finally granted the network permission to reopen its Moscow bureau.

It is the second time in recent years that an American network has been granted permission to reopen a Moscow bureau after having been ordered out following a television presentation in this country.

In 1958, CBS presented a 90-minute video drama entitled "The Plot to Kill Stalin," which also offended the Soviets. Not long afterward, CBS had its news bureau closed for a long period.

NBC said yesterday that Secretary of State Dean Rusk was notified of the Soviet decision to authorize the bureau reopening by Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in Washington, D.C. The network added:

"The State Department has been negotiating with the Soviets for the re-establishment of the NBC Moscow bureau in behalf of the network since the office was closed in March, 1963."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Historian Arnold Toynbee is interviewed on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers" Sunday . . . The United States and Romania are expected to swap more television programs and movies than in the past, under a cultural exchange pact.

Bulkhead Plan Gets Protest

The state lands division of the California Department of Finance has submitted a protest to the Army Corps of Engineers over a proposal to build a bulkhead and two floats on Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur.

Larkspur's City Council and the Marin County Board of Supervisors also are reported concerned over the proposed project's potential intereference with planned flood control work along the creek, but neither has filed a formal protest.

The project was proposed by Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., San Rafael, which owns the apartment building at 535 Larkspur Plaza.

Objections of the state lands division are based on questions of whether the land involved encroaches on state-owned tidelands.

Aid For Flooded Indians Planned

A drive for food and clothing for the Indians in the flood areas of Northern California was launched yesterday by the Novato Republican Women's Club, announced Mrs. Kathleen Loeffler, president.

Non-perishable food, warm clothing, blankets and pots and pans will be collected by the club for the Indians. They can be taken to the home of William Schlake of 15 Hickox Road, Novato, until Jan. 13.

Reservation Indians are not eligible for federal emergency or small business administration loans, Mrs. Loeffler said.

Sculpture On Parade At New York Show

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Artist Fredrick Hobbs unveiled a landmark first in the world of art here recently—A motorized "parade sculpture" which he drove to its premier showing in New York City.

Entitled "Sun Chariot," the work was 700 pounds of fiber glass mounted on the chassis of a small foreign car and colored burgundy, deep purple, red, blue, orange, dark green, violet and yellow.

Marine Training

Marine Pvt. Raymond J. Velati, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Velati of 59 Ridge Avenue, San Rafael, has completed four weeks of individual combat training at the Second Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton.

Ex-Senator Given Oath As Judge

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Former Sen. Edwin J. Regan ,D-Weatherville, was sworn in Sunday as a justice of the 3rd District Court of Aappeal.

Presiding Justice Fred R. Pierce administered the oath of office in the courtroom.

Regan was appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Justice Andrew Schottky.

Brown has called a special election for March 16 to fill Regan's seat in the Senate.

This Little Boy Is Young For Commuting

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Two-year-old Billy Chugg slipped away from his home in suburban Harris Park. Police found him two hours later in the city at Wynyard Railway Station, 16 miles away.

Billy's father, Douglas Chugg, said his boy had toddled down to the local station and joined commuters on a city-bound train.

Many Marin Educators Live Outside Of Districts

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Framers of the San Rafael city charter in 1912 included a section reading: "No person shall be eligible to hold any office in said City of San Rafael, whether filled by election or appointment, unless he be a resident and elector therein . . . This section shall not apply to superintendents, principals and teachers in the public schools."

The freeholders of that long-gone time likely made the schools exempt from the residence requirement for the reason that there were too few qualified teachers available in San Rafael.

Passage of a half century apparently has not changed that.

According to the Marin County Schools Directory for the present year, fewer than half of the employees of San Rafael schools live within San Rafael High School District. The directory lists addresses of 171 living within the district, 158 in other parts of Marin County, and 78 outside the county.

San Rafael is by no means unique in this respect. Of Marin's elementary, high school and unified districts with more than a half-dozen employees, only three show a majority living within the district where they work. The three are sprawling Tamalpais High School District, Novato Unified District, and little West Marin Elementary School District.

(Because of the imminent unification of Novato and San Jose, for purposes of the tabulation residence within either of the two was counted as home district residence.)

At the non-residence extreme are Ross School District, with only one of 33 employees residing in Ross and seven residing outside the county, and Sausalito School District, where nine of 56 employees are listed as residents within the district.

In a speech last year to a joint session of the California School Boards Assn. and the Califorina Assn. of School Administrators, Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of Denver Public Schools, said:

"The public schools belong to all the people . . . The community should be so organized that citizen control of its public school policies is both respected in principle and facilitated in practice. To this end there must be effective channels of communication between citizens and school authorities."

It would appear possible that communication between public and school personnel would be somewhat hampered when the teacher takes off for San Francisco or Cotati as soon as the class day ends.

Seventy-eight teachers in the San Rafael schools, 43 in Mill Valley District, 41 in Tamalpais High School District, 29 in Dixie District, 24 in Sausalito District, 23 in Novato District, 22 in San Jose District, 18 in San Anselmo District, 15 in Kentfield District, 15 in Reed District, 12 in Larkspur District, seven in Ross District, five in Fairfax District, and two in West Marin District are listed in the county schools directory as residing outside Marin County.

It would appear possible that people-school communication might suffer still more if the principal were a non-resident.

According to the county schools directory, the principal of San Rafael's San Pedro School lives in San Francisco, the principal of Pacheco School in the San Jose District lives in Windsor, and the principals of Bayside and Central schools in the Sausalito District live in Vallejo.

The directory shows the following numbers of principals residing outside the districts where they are employed to run the schools: San Rafael, principals of 7 of the total of 16 schools; Dixie, 5 of 8; Fairfax, 2 of 3; Kentfield, 2 of 3; Larkspur, 2 of 4; Mill Valley, 6 of8; Reed, 6 of 6; San Anselmo, 2 of 6; San Jose, 3 of 6; Sausalito, 4 of 4; Tamalpais High School, one of 3.

No principal in the Novato District lives outside Novato.

In most cases, the superintendent resides within the district even if the majority of his employees do not. However, the Dixie District superintendent lives in San Rafael (not far away, but outside his district); the Fairfax superintendent lives in San Anselmo (also virtually next door); the Ross superintendent lives in Larkspur; the San Anselmo superintendent lives in Belvedere; the San Jose superintendent lives in Corte Madera, and the superintendent of little Tomales Bay School District lives in San Rafael.

Here is a tabulation of the in-district, out of district but in-county, and out-of-county residential status (in that order) of school personnel listed in the Marin County schools directory:

Bolinas District: Bolinas School, 3, 1 and none; Stinson Beach School, 2, none and none.

Dixie District: District office, 13, 15 and 3; Hoffman School, 7, 14 and 1; Don Timoteo School, 9, 12 and 1; Lucas Valley School, 7, 11 and 4; Silveira School, 8, 13 and 4; Miller Creek School, 4, 11 and 2; Nova Albion School, 5, 5 and 2; Santa Margarita School, 4, 16 and 5; Vallecito School, 9, 17 and 7.

Fairfax District: District office, 1, 5 and none; Deer Park School, 4, 8 and none; Central School, 5, 4 and 1; Manor School, 1, 12 and 4.

Kentfield District: District office, 3, 12 and none; Kent School, 3, 26 and 7; Greenbrae School, 3, 14 and 3; Wolfe Grade School, 2, 12 and 4.

Lagunitas School, 10, 11 and 1.

Larkspur District: District office, 2, 7 and none; Hall School, 3, 8 and 3; Larkspur Corte Madera School, 7, 8 and 2; Neil Cummins School, 8, 15 and 3; San Clemente School, 4, 9 and 4.

Mill Valley District: District office, 11, 7 and 2; Alto School, 5, 9 and 5; Maguire School, 7, 18 and 11; Homestead School, 6, 4 and 2; Marin Terrace School, 4, 5 and 3; Old Mill School, 9, 5 and 4; Park School, 9, 8 and 4; Strawberry Point School, 10, 4 and 4; Tamalpais Valley School, 4, 8 and 8.

Novato District (residence in either Novato or San Jose District counted as "in district"): District office, 10, 7 and none; Hill Junior High School, 22, 9 and 4; Lu Sutton School, 10, 6 and none; Marion School, 10, 9 and none; Olive School, 13, 7 and 3; Rancho School, 9, 10 and 3; West Novato School, 11, 10 and 2; Novato High School, 32, 19 and 11.

Reed District: District office, 8, 9 and 1; Bel Aire School, 6, 13 and 1; Belvedere School, 2, 4 and 2; Del Mar School, 9, 8 and 3; Granada School, 1, 8 and 2; Reed School, 8, 5 and 6; Tiburon School, 3, 4 and none.

Ross School: 1, 25 and 7.

San Anselmo District: District office, 1, 10 and 4; Brookside School, 10, 6 and 3; Hidden Valley School, 4, 4 and 1; Cook School, 7, 11 and 3; Sleepy Hollow School, 4, 8 and 4; Thomas School, 7, 8, and 1; Yolansdale School, 2, 4 and 2.

San Jose District (residence in either San Jose or Novato District counted as "in district"): District office, 9, 13 and 1; Hamilton School, 4, 4 and 1; Loma Verde School, 7, 12 and none; Lynwood School, 12, 8 and 3; Meadow Park School, 6, 16 and 3; Pacheco School, 4, 9 and 8; San Jose Intermediate School, 9, 10 and 6.

San Rafael District (residence within high school district counted as "in district"): District office, 20, 22 and 7; Coleman School, 11, 5 and 4; Gallinas School, 6, 2 and 3; Glenwood School, 5, 4 and 3; Davidson Junior High School, 12, 11 and 11; MacPhail School, 3, 8 and 4; Laurel Dell Intermediate School, 4, 6 and none; Laurel Dell Primary School, 2, 5 and 2; Hartzell School, 9, 2 and 4; San Pedro School, 8, 5 and 4; San Quentin School, 1, 1 and none; Santa Venetia Junior High School, 8, 5 and 3; Short School, 5, 4 and 1; Sun Valley School, 6, 4 and 1; West End School, 4, 4 and 1; San Rafael High School, 39, 37 and 8; Terra Linda High School, 37, 39 and 26.

Sausalito District: District office, 5, 1 and 3; Bayside School, 1, 4 and 3; Central School, 2, 2 and 5; Manzanita School, 1, 8 and 3; Richardson Bay School, none, 8 and 10.

Tamalpais High School District: District office, 26, 6 and 3; Redwood High School, 56, 19 and 10; Drake High School, 54, 8 and 14; Tamalpais High School, 62, 12 and 14.

Tomales Bay District: Tomales School, 1, 3 and 1; Marshall School, none, 1 and none.

West Marin District: Inverness School, 4, 1 and none; West Marin School, 5, 5 and 2.

Incidentally, the directory shows 140 employees in the county schools office and the schools it operates. Of these, 19 live outside the county.

30-DAY WEATHER OUTLOOK

The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for January calls for temperatures to average above seasonal normals over the western third of the nation as well as over the Southern Plains. Below normal averages are anticipated for the West Coast states, northern and western portions of the Plateau Region and the Northern Plains. Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, the lower Great Lakes region and the western quarter of the nation. Subnormal amounts are called for over western portions of the Southern Central plains as well as the extreme Southeast. (UPI telephoto)

Burglars Net $1,000 Loot In 3 Visits

Three burglaries, one involving theft of over $1,000 worth of clothing and furniture, were reported yesterday by Marin County sheriff's officers.

William C. Hedberg, 827 Smith Road, Tamalpais Valley, reported his home was entered by breaking a basement window last Wednesday. Taken, according to the report, were a $600 high fidelity set, a television set worth $250, a tape recorder, two jackets worth a total of $400, and other clothing.

Peter J. Dawson, building contractor of 41 Martling Road, Sleepy Hollow, told officers a new house at 34 Dutch Valley Lane in Sleepy Hollow was entered sometimes Friday by prying a rear sliding door. Four doors, worth a total of $40, were stolen, he said.

eBn A. Farlatti, operator of the Lodge at 8148 Redwood Highway, Novato, reported a San Francisco man checked into a room Saturday and apparently made off with a $140 television set. Also taken was $10 worth of towels, officers said.

Vandals, probably juveniles, entered a house for sale on Carson Road in Woodacre owned by Gustave Erpin, San Francisco. Officers said interior lighting fixtures and a kitchen window were broken. A hole was kicked through a living room wall, they said.

Novato Artists' Workshop Meeting Sunday Afternoon

The North Bay Artists will hold an art workshop at 2 p.m. Sunday in Novato Community House.

Members and other interested artists will spend the afternoon working on their favorite projects.

The executive board will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Verle E. Johnson residence at 30 Laurie Drive, Novato, to outline the year's program.

The group is sponsored by the Novato Recreation Department.

Less Medicine Available For State's Needy

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Drugs and glasses will be harder to come by through state aid for California's needy blind, aged and disabled in the future.

J. M. Wedemeyer, state social welfare director, reported the cutbacks Saturday. He said "Curtailment of medical care coverage for assistance recipients was necessary to meet budgetary limitations placed on the department by the legislature . . ."

The revsisions mean that nonprescription drugs available over the counter will have to be paid for by aid recipients who need them.

The same is true for expensive pain killers for which "suitable and less expensive substitutes are available."

Picnic For Hornets

The Hornet Society at Novato High School will be honored at a picnic lunch Saturday afternoon by the executive council and representative assembly of the associated student body, according to Ron Tieche, student body president.

Brawl Costs Use Of Eye To Marinite

Marin County and Sonoma County sheriff's deputies were trying today to learn more about a New Year's Day beating which cost a San Rafael man his right eye.

Lyle Duane Shurtz, 29, of 1233 Irwin Street, was in good condition yesterday at San Rafael General Hospital, where he was treated when he went there for help at 6 p.m. Friday.

Doctors at the hospital called San Rafael police. Officers said Shurtz was unable to give a precise account of what had happened, but reported that he had gone to Sonoma County earlier in the day with two companions.

After being involved in a fight somewhere in that county, he said he was brought to San Rafael by two men in a white pickup truck. He did not know their names.

Shurtz said he believed the beating took place somewhere on the Black Point Cutoff.

Council May Take Stand On U.C. 'Speech'

The Sausalito City Council will consider taking a stand at its 8 p.m. meeting today on a resolution adopted by the Albany City Council pertaining to the "free speech" controversy at University of California.

The City of Albany, adjacent to Berkeley, adopted a resolution favoring a U. C. policy "of exercising disciplinary powers, including that of expulsion from said university, of students and faculty who violate the laws, rules or regulations." It also urged "enactment of any additional legislation" needed to augment the university's rules.

The Sausalito council will also hold a hearing on an appeal from planning commission denial of a permit for United Sand and Gravel Co. to continue operations on A. G. Schoonmaker Co. property.

A planning commission report on the proposed plan for Rodeo Avenue as an alternate access road from Highway 101 will be heard.

Low-Level Flights Alarm Marinites

Two telephone calls of an airplane apparently in distress were received by Marin County sheriff's officers yesterday, but deputies said no crash or emergency landing was reported.

Ruth Ruoff, 1741 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, told officers she heard a plane make seven "passes" at low altitude about 3:25 a.m. Fifteen minutes later, Mrs. George Alberigi, wife of Sgt. Alberigi of San Anselmo poplie, reported to deputies a plane barely missed their Forest Knolls home rooftop and awakened her from a sound sleep.

She could give no description of the aircraft, officers said. They added a check with Hamilton Air Force Base disclosed the base knew of no aircraft missing or in trouble.

Store Charges 3 As Shoplifters

Purity Stores in Mill Valley started a drive against shoplifters Sunday and, within less than five hours, had caught three. Two are housewives and the third is a 61-year-old man.

All were placed under citizens arrest by a Purity Stores security officer and booked at the county jail on charges of petty theft.

They are Helen Marie Smith, 45, of 105 Longfellow Road; Betty Marie David, 40, of 61 Meadow Road and Charles J. Rieb, 61, of 16 South Knoll Road. Rieb told Mill Valley police he is unemployed. He was arrested in possession of a can of sardines, a pound of butter and a bottle of aspirin.

Items allegedly stolen from the store at 693 East Blithedale Avenue totaled $15.61 in value and included packages of meat, butter, deodorant and a copy of Mad magazine.

Blood Donations Plea Is Sounded

A plea for blood for a Novato veteran was issued today by Louis Cavallero, commander of Donald V. Westlund Post 7816, Veterans of Foreign aWrs.

Emile Richards of 8 Sunset Court, Novato, a member of the post, has been given 20 pints of blood since he entered University of California Hospital in San Francisco on Nov. 28, Cavallero said.

"Our blood reserves have been depleted and we need donors in the name of the post and its auxiliary for Richards," he said.

Blood may be donated at the Marin Blood Center, 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

William K. Gaylord, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gaylord of 181 Deer Hollow Road, Sleepy Hollow, has been commissioned a Navy ensign upon graduation from the Naval Officer Candidate School at Newport, R.I.

This week, 57,200 people will switch from Buick, Chevy, Ford, Olds, Plymouth and Pontiac. Rambler asks them to do just 3 things:

Classic 770 Hardtop
New Intermediate-Size Rambler

Consider style
At the first major auto show for '65 cars, all 3 of the new Ramblers were picked first in style and appearance among their direct competition by people in a survey. Take the stunning new Classic shown above. Its sweeping length keynotes the Rambler glamor story—fresh, bold, big.

Consider performance
Choose the power you want—the sensational Torque Command 232 Six or 2 big options—a rugged 287 or the mighty 327 cu.-in. V-8. And with Rambler's new luxury interiors, you can choose just about any sports option you can name: reclining bucket seats, floor shifts, wire wheel covers.

Consider value
Extra values at no extra cost that make Rambler so solid a buy, keep resale value tops: the Advanced Unit Construction, Deep-Dip rustproofing; Ceramic-Armored exhaust system; Double-Safety Brakes (separate systems, front and rear)—many more.
American Motors—Dedicated to Excellence

An R. L. Polk & Co. analysis indicates that in an average week 57,200 Buick, Chevrolet, Ford, Oldsmobile, Plymouth and Pontiac owners will switch from the make they own to another make.
